Storm Deaths
Climb As Snow
Sweeps Nation

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
A hurricane-driven storm which will go down in history books as one of the worst on record buried Boston under chest-deep drifts Friday and raised its death toll to more than 120 lives.

The lashing snows were rated "the heaviest and most crippling March storm on record" at Boston. New York remained crippled by the same storm, which ranked as one of the city's worst winter outbreaks since the legendary blizzard of 1888.

The storm death toll soared along an icebound expanse from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Seaboard. United Press International counted at least 123 weather-blamed deaths in 28 states and the District of Columbia, with the final toll far from complete.

WORST

The worst-affected states were Pennsylvania, with 13 dead, New York, with 13, Connecticut and Massachusetts, both with 11. Maryland, with 8, and Indiana and Ohio, with 7 each.

The winter blast, less than three weeks away from spring, whipped the six-state New England area with hurricane-force winds, two-foot snows, and 11-foot drifts.

Solon Hurls
Accusation
At President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was accused by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) Friday of driving men of ideas from Washington by treating with contempt his defense critics.

Fulbright chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Eisenhower has the attitude that he knows best about military necessities. The senator said this is a dangerous idea threatening the very existence of the nation.

"Mr. Eisenhower, by virtue of his powers as President of the United States and commander in chief of its armed forces, is the only man alive whose decisions about our armaments, if faulty, could cause the free world to be lost in an afternoon," Fulbright said.

SPEECH

Fulbright set out, in a full dress speech for the Senate, to document the thesis that, under Eisenhower, the United States has become "a 20th century Babylon, headless and heartless, a big, fat target for the ably led Communist world and the clamoring, poverty-ridden states."

It is humiliating, the senator said, that with a per capita income nearly double that of any other country, the United States should be "debating the extent to which our armed forces may be inferior to those of the Soviet Union."

In the face of what he termed a total threat from the Soviet Union, Fulbright said Eisenhower is in sharp conflict with critics of the defense program.

"He treats them contemptuously," Fulbright said. "He was not disturbed, he said, 'because anyone with a parochial viewpoint says the bosses know nothing about it.'"

"Generals are not to reason why. Their commander in chief complains that 'too many generals have all sorts of ideas.'"

"Yet mankind moves on ideas. Men with ideas are the makers and shakers of the world. The larger their number serving the country, the more fruitful and vigorous the country."

"But few men of ideas come to Washington. They are not likely to seek service under a chief executive who is scornful of their ideas."

Polio Vaccine
Plans Explained

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Health officials Friday announced plans for "the largest scientifically controlled experiment" ever undertaken to test a new oral polio vaccine.

An estimated 254,305 school children and adults in Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Duluth, Minn., were eligible to take part. But experimenters were uncertain how many would actually volunteer.

The vaccine is designed to give immunity to all three strains of polio with a single dose of live virus contained in a cherry-flavored liquid.

Negro Minister
Included In Latest Melee

By UPI

Authorities made mass arrests of leaders of lunch counter "sitdown" demonstrations in Nashville, Tenn., Friday including a Negro minister advocating and teaching "passive resistance" techniques.

The minister, the Rev. James M. Lawson Jr., was arrested in the Negro First Baptist Church in downtown Nashville and was whisked immediately to the district attorney general's office.

The 78 arrested were charged with conspiracy to disrupt trade and commerce, an offense more serious than disorderly conduct which was charged to 80 Negro and white students arrested in Nashville during demonstrations last Saturday. Conviction on the disruption of trade charge could result in a maximum penalty of 11 months and 29 days in jail and/or a fine of $1,000.

IDENTIFIED

Those arrested were identified as students and adults who took part in earlier Nashville lunch counter demonstrations and who—except for Lawson—were arrested earlier on disorderly conduct charges.

Lawson had not been previously arrested.

Play

"The Dark at the Top of the Stairs"—great Broadway success which stars Joan Blondell in William Inge's stirring production is to be seen in Neville High School Auditorium this evening at 8:15 p.m. The Northeast State Concert Ass'n is responsible in getting the play produced here.

This play is the fourth great success of Inge's and it is called the best of the series. The play is thrilled with characters abounding in humor and warmth of expression, as the Flood family performances are revealed to a delighted house.

Miss Blondell, in her first role in an Inge's play, shows compelling enthusiasm and has signed up to carry through May and when a 30 weeks tour will be completed.

In the class of Tennessee Williams and Arthur Miller, Inge ranks as an outstanding playwright.

SET ONCE IN THOUSAND YEARS

New Atomic 'Clock'
Project Perfected

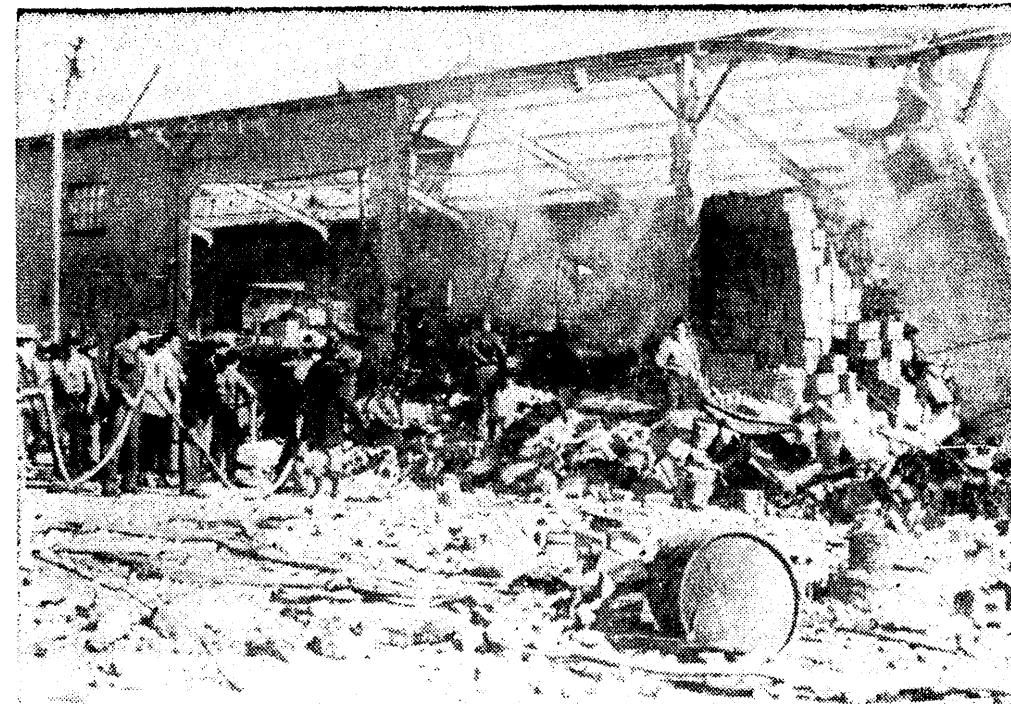

BOULDER, Colo., (AP)—Imagine, if you can, setting your watch only once every 1,000 years. Imagine, too, that 1,000 years hence you'd find your watch accurate to within a single second.

This concept illustrates the accuracy of a new atomic "clock" which has been perfected by scientists at the National Bureau of Standards' Boulder laboratories. The project was started in 1946.

Announcement of the project's completion was made Friday by Dr. Richard C. Mockler. Actually, the new instrument is a standard of frequency instead of time. It helps maintain the accuracy of radio signals broadcast by the bureau so that power companies know they are sending 60-cycle current into your home.

It also assures that radio and TV stations are transmitting on their assigned frequency and that the electronics industry can accurately measure the frequency of electrical energy.

Finch Trial
Ends; Jury
Is Deciding

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The long, often-sensational Finch murder trial—a drama of sex and violence, death in the suburbs—went to the jury Friday.

The state ended its final arguments by midmorning with a flourish of rhetoric. Superior Court Judge Walter R. Evans spent an hour instructing the panel of five men and seven women, and they got the case at 12:40 p.m.

Because of the great volume of testimony and argument—more than two million words—the jurors are expected to take several days to make up their minds.

Upon their decision rests the fate of the two defendants: Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, wealthy surgeon from suburban West Covina, and Carole Tregoff, 23, his pretty mistress.

DOUBLE CHARGE

Each faces twin charges: murder and conspiracy to murder the doctor's wife, Barbara Jean, 36.

Neither showed emotion as the jurors took over, despite the fact they have been under the trial's strain since last Dec. 8. During instructions, Dr. Finch sat and gazed intently at the judge, Miss Tregoff sat still and frowned.

In instructing the jury the judge listed five possible verdicts:

Guilty of first-degree murder—penalty: execution or life imprisonment; guilty of second-degree murder—five years to life; acquittal of murder; guilty of conspiracy to commit first-degree murder—execution or life imprisonment; acquittal of conspiracy to murder.

If the verdict is first-degree murder or conspiracy, the same jury will meet later to decide the penalty. If it is second-degree murder, the judge decides the penalty.

Reds Urge Halt
On Plans For
Bases In Spain

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union called Friday on the Western Big Three to stop West Germany from carrying out "dangerous military plans" for setting up Army bases in Spain.

It also accused West Germany of entering into a military plot with the Franco regime.

Tass said a note was handed to Hans Kroll, West German ambassador, drawing attention to "the very serious consequences" of steps designed to establish West German supply and training bases in Spain.

NOTES

The agency said notes also were delivered to the embassies of Britain, France and the United States, calling on those nations to exert influence "to prevent the implementation of the dangerous military plans" of West Germany.

The note to West Germany said a move to establish bases in Spain "grossly violates the act of Germany's unconditional surrender as well as Allied agreements on Germany," Tass reported.

(In Bonn, the West German government rejected the Soviet charges and accused Moscow of trying to stir up unrest about Germany before the spring East-West summit meeting.)

In Bonn, officials said the accusations amounted to interference in West Germany's affairs and were based on claims that had long been disproved.

They said recent statements by Gen. Lauris Norstad, NATO commander, and Walter C. Dowling, U.S. Ambassador to Bonn, showed that West Germany did not go behind NATO's back in approaching Spain.

Informants in London meanwhile reported the British government has offered to let West German troops and pilots train in Britain.

Ike Discusses
Latin America

DORADO, Puerto Rico (AP)—President Eisenhower declared Friday only hard thinking and hard work will solve the Western Hemisphere's problems.

He rejected any idea of the United States alone developing a master plan to raise Latin American living standards.

"Panacea proposals, facile solutions, will only lead to disillusionment," Eisenhower told the Caribbean section of the American Assembly, a nonpartisan study group in a report on his 10-day, four-nation tour of South America. "Obviously the major responsibility for a nation's development devolves upon its own people, its own leaders."

Filibuster
Topples Old
Senate Mark

McClellan Takes His Turn In Dixie Lineup

WASHINGTON (AP)—A partial power failure hit the Capitol Friday as the southern filibuster against a civil rights bill toppled Senate endurance records.

One senator, A. S. (Mike) Monroney (D-Okla.), professed to see a connection between the electrical failure and the round-the-clock grind by which Senate leaders have been trying to wear down Southern orators.

On the floor, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) showed no signs of wearing down as he took his turn in the Southern lineup. McClellan declined that even if the Senate passed every proposal offered, civil rights advocates would be back next year "demanding more legislation."

COMMENT

"You don't satisfy them," he said. "How are you going to end it? The only way to deal with it is to stop considering this eternal hollering about civil rights."

Monroney told the Senate during one interval that the continuous sessions which began last Monday noon have completely exhausted Senate equipment, while leaving the Southerners fresh as daisies.

Building engineers said they thought the power breakdown was caused by the grounding of electrical equipment by Thursday's 8-inch snowfall.

The temporary shutdown knocked out the lights and electric ovens in the Senate and House restaurants. (Continued On Page Two-A)

Residents Here
Have 2 Weeks
For Registering

Quachita Parish residents have two weeks to register to vote in the general and city elections. The parish now has 24,505 persons on the voting rolls.

Mrs. Mae Lucky, registrar of voters, said yesterday that the registration books will close at noon on Saturday, March 19, and reopen after the city government election in May.

Ward One residents don't have to worry about the registration deadline. The books already are closed to them.

Books for the two Ward One precincts—Sterlington and Fairbanks—closed at 5 p.m. yesterday. They must be closed 30 days before the April 5 fire protection district election.

TOTAL

Quachita's new total of registered voters stands 790 below the official figures on the first day of February.

Nine-hundred persons were taken off the voter lists, for failure to ballot during the past four years. Mrs. Lucky previously announced this, Sixty-nine of the 900 had moved away or died during that time.

In February, 120 new voters registered. The Registrar explained that (Continued On Page Two-A)

Overridden
In Navy Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Joint Chiefs of Staff overrode the recommendations of the chief of the North American Defense Command in authorizing the Navy to pull its destroyer escort picket ships out of the Distant Early Warning system.

The Navy announced earlier this week that 15 radar picket destroyers which have been operating in the seaward expansion of the land-based DEW line system to warn of the approach of enemy bombers toward North America will be taken out of commission within the next two months.

Originally there were 36 destroyer escort picket ships in the DEW system. Four of them will continue to work converted merchant ships in the radar warning system. 14 will be assigned to anti-submarine warfare, two will be assigned to the trust territories patrol in the Pacific and the other 15 will be mothballed.

ASKED

Gen. Laurence Kuter, chief of the North American Defense Command, was asked through an aide if he had approved the proposal to withdraw the destroyers from his unified command, which includes Air Force, Army and Navy units.

"No," he told his aide, when reached by phone at Thule, Greenland, where Kuter was starting an inspection trip of the DEW system.

What will replace any hole left in the integrated system by the withdrawal of the surface radar ships?

DEMONSTRATION RIDE

Spaceman Whirls
On Crazy 'Midway'

CLEVELAND (AP)—An astronaut took a rocky ride in a space eradle Friday and came out of the spin with a grin.

Then he quipped about the bump nickel that put him aboard.

This was a demonstration ride in a huge cage that whirled a man in three directions at once, while a screaming hiss fills the wind tunnel in which it is built. It is like the craziest ride on the circus midway, multiplied by seven—which is the astronaut's number.

Six of the nation's seven space men have taken this stage of their training, one or two at a time, at the Lewis Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The purposes: To accustom them to a lot more tumbling and spinning than they ever expect to experience in a space capsule. And to show them how to control a capsule so it may be turned gently, end for end.

Astronaut Scott Carpenter demonstrated the device Friday for news and camera men. All six of the current trainees were supposed to be here—LeRoy G. Cooper, the seventh, is a little behind schedule because of an illness in his family.

But a March snowstorm delayed the train bringing three of them from Washington: Virgil I. Grissom, whose specialty is in this field, was nominated for the demonstration, but he still was orbiting the snow. Carpenter, Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Donald K. Slayton matched coins—"odd man is it." Schirra and Slayton had heads. So Carpenter donned his white helmet and orange suit.

Sabotage
Suspicion
Is Raised

HAVANA (AP)—French freighter deliverer munitions from Belgium to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban army blew up along side a Havana harbor pier Friday.

Late Friday night official quaters estimated 75 to 100 persons were killed and 200 injured aboard ship and ashore.

The ship and nearby harbor installation were destroyed by a blast and fire.

The Castro government quickly raised the suspicion of sabotage and some of its adherents began hinting a sneak light plane raid. Castro's enemies may have scoffed the blasts.

URGENT

Castro called an urgent Cabinet meeting, ordered his military a police forces on a standby alert and plunged the nation from a post-Mardi Gras festivities to mourning.

Fire fighters and pier workmen who moved in for rescue work after the first blast shook the pier in the afternoon were caught in the second explosion about 11:30 a.m. Some were knocked overboard into the bay.

Other explosions and fires followed on the ship and ashore a mounting scene of chaos.

The first official estimate of 100 dead and 200 injured came from a government-operated station.

There was no estimate of property damage along the pier. Experts noted that most of the destruct was in old buildings.

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana Welfare Commission said Friday she could see no decline in government spending public welfare in the next years.

Dr. Loyd Rowland, director of the Louisiana Assn. for Mental Health, urged construction of new institution for mentally retarded in Southeastern Louisiana. He told a mental health forum there is a long list of people waiting to be admitted to the institution at Pineville.

SCHEDULE

Rowland said the incoming governor will have to follow a seven-point schedule to set up mental health program:

Appoint as head of the department of hospitals an administrator of hospitals who has an adequate background of training a experience.

Start a division of mental health within the department of hospitals and head it with an administrative psychiatrist and make him responsible for services to the mental hospitals.

Storm Deaths Climb As Snow Sweeps Nation

(Continued From Page One) walks. Pedestrians had to take to the streets, but these were shut down tight in Boston and elsewhere in New England.

A hoped-for thaw failed to arrive in New York, leaving the metropolis freezing under a hard cover of snow. Ten thousand street workers struggled to free the city from winter's tightest grip in 12 years.

The Southland also failed to break out of the deep freeze. Coal miners were trapped by snow drifts near West Jefferson, N.C., and National Guardsmen moved into the snowbound Tennessee communities of Signal Mountain and Lookout Mountain to prevent looting. Guardsmen also rushed food, blankets, beds and heaters to isolated Georgia communities.

The worst of the storm had passed the Middle West, where record cold moved in, and most of the heavily-populated cities of the northeast. Schools remained closed in Boston, New York, Cleveland, Portland, Ore., Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, D.C., but rail, road and air travel struggled back to normal.

In New England, however, weathermen searched for adjectives to describe the intensity and viciousness of the storm. Boston and its suburbs were practically smothered by fast-drifting snows 13 inches deep. Businesses and industries were at a near standstill.

The snow was so deep it was impossible to walk on many sidewalks. The doctor shot his wife in the back as she fled.

The defendants said when they called on Mrs. Finch to discuss her divorce plans, she pulled a gun, the doctor wrested it from her, and she was shot accidentally when he tried to throw it out of harm's way.

Prosecutor Whichello closed the state's case with allegations delivered in withering tones.

Pointing to where Miss Tregoff sat, watching her fixedly, her left hand resting on the counsel table, he said: "It's there right now. That's the hand that carried the murder kit up the hill. That's the hand that is figuratively stained with the blood of Barbara Jean Finch."

In requesting the death penalty, Whichello told the jury: "This isn't an accident or it's first-degree murder. And both defendants are equally guilty. It is in your power to permit this precious pair to walk up this aisle hand in hand, congratulating themselves. But I ask you to follow this case to its logical conclusion. Both are guilty."

Judge Evans, in instructing the jury, explained when homicide may be considered excusable. He said it must be by "both accident and misfortune."

picketing by ministerial students at Vanderbilt University.

Twenty-six Negro students were arrested and jailed at Sumter, S.C., Friday on breach of the peace charges in connection with lunch counter demonstrations. They declined to post bond and were held in jail.

The students staged demonstrations at dime and drug stores in Sumter, taking seats in booths and at stools at which whites only are served. They were arrested when they refused requests to leave.

Friday's uproar at Nashville began with Lawson's dismissal by university officials from the Vanderbilt school of divinity on grounds that he was advocating and promoting civil disobedience. White ministerial students picketed the university's main administration building in snow and cold protesting the action.

The Castro government said it suspected sabotage.

A police official in a preliminary survey at nightfall estimated there were at least 20 killed and said many more were injured.

"It looked like a scene from Dante's inferno," said a 21-year-old fireman, Gabriel Delgado.

He was fighting the fire in the rear hold after the first blast and was caught aboard by the second about half an hour later.

"Bodies and pieces of bodies were all over the hold," Delgado said. "There were at least 40 or 50 dead."

"God knows how I escaped. I hid behind anything available. Bullets and shrapnel were flying all around me."

Delgado suffered lacerations of the arms and hands.

The explosions smashed beyond the ship to the arsenal and a nearby warehouse and heavily damaged the Pan-American office building.

An undetermined number of dockworkers were caught in the ship's after hold when the first blast roared up, setting the craft afire.

More than three hours after the initial explosion Havana Police Chief Efigenio Ameijeiras said it was impossible to fix the number of dead and wounded.

Enrique Montero, 53, a clerk in the Pan-American dock office said he was at his desk filling out papers when the first explosion sounded.

"Heavy pieces of equipment fell through our roof and through the second floor down to the first floor where I was working," he said. "I couldn't move. I stayed where I was."

"I saw many people outside running and being knocked down by objects flying through the air," Montero said he was unhurt.

In Richmond, Va., four of the 34 Negroes who attempted to desegregate eating facilities in the city's largest department store were convicted of trespassing and fined $20 each.

The Rev. Frank G. Pinkston, a student at Virginia Union University and one of the four convicted, said the cases would be appealed to higher courts. Trials of the 30 others were put off until Saturday.

Filibuster Topples Old Senate Mark

Clerks used the telephone to summon absent members to quorum calls.

While weary senators lunched by candlelight on salads, sandwiches and lukewarm soup, the clocks that were still working ticked off a new record for an unbroken Senate session.

At 1:39 p.m. the Senate had been sitting without a break for 54 hours and 11 minutes, surpassing a record of 45 years standing.

The previous record of 54 hours and 10 minutes was set in 1915 during a successful filibuster against a ship purchase bill proposed by President Woodrow Wilson.

La. Senators Sent Wire Of Congratulation FARMERVILLE (Special) — A telegram carrying the names of 110 business and professional men and women from Farmerville has been sent to Louisiana senators and Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) congratulating them on their stand against civil rights.

A spokesman said the telegram was addressed to Sen. Allen J. Ellender, Sen. Russell Long and Russell.

The signers expressed their appreciation to the senators for their actions in fighting the pending civil rights bill and urged the senators not to compromise "on this vital issue but continue the filibuster."

and participating will be the following girls: Diana Boyington, Alice Jordan, Barbara Groves, Nancy Phillips, Linda Traylor, Wanda Gates, Paige Housey, Pamela Cummings, Jayne Wallace. Troop 17 will be in charge and Mrs. Billy Nelson will lead the singing. Jamie Corley, and Mary Alice Elmore will give talks on Juliette Low and Girl Scout Week.

Church Last Sunday was a big day, for at that time the new Highland Presbyterian Church carried out two ceremonies that made church history.

Mrs. C. E. Faulk, widow of the late owner and publisher of the Monroe News-Star for years, was in attendance as donor of the new church and she was highly pleased to see that this needed structure is established.

The corner stone was formally placed at the exercises, and the church's first pastor, the Rev. Earl B. Wiggins, was introduced. Dr. Hugh Bradshaw, pastor of Memorial Presbyterian church, was a participant.

Scouts Girl Scout troops of West Monroe are to observe the 48th anniversary of founding of the order, Sunday at Highland School at 3 p.m.

Thirteen troops will participate with the presentation of the Juliette Low Friendship Fund which will highlight the afternoon ceremony.

The opening flag ceremony will be in charge of troop 12.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

THE AGED NEED NOT DRY UP

Time can't be stopped but men and women in their fifties and sixties can delay the aging process by retaining their enthusiasm and zest for life. Apathy as well as disease accelerates deterioration. Now is the time to take stock, especially if you are not feeling up to par and are becoming sloppy in appearance, shiftless, round shouldered, or peplless.

Start the rebuilding program with a physical checkup. Illness, by reducing life expectancy, prevents many older persons from enjoying the final period of life. Correct minor defects that may lead to a crippling disturbance. Treating high blood pressure at its inception in the early fifties, for example, spares the heart and blood vessels from permanent damage.

Correcting anemia and improving the diet by adding more proteins, vitamins, and minerals may be rejuvenating. Stand tall and pull back the shoulders. This permits the heart and lungs to function properly and prevents the abdominal organs from being crowded. A little exercise and more roughage will help elimination.

Meanwhile, "get hep" and find some justification for living, if you think you are too old for this world. Participate in something and stop thinking and talking old. Withdrawing from social contacts leads to a vegetative, unhappy existence.

I'm not implying that all retired persons are unhappy. Even tho they are consumers rather than producers, those who are spry and keen of mind are actively engaged in hobbies or improving their mind and body. They are not sitting in the rocking chair waiting for the end.

These busy oldsters are calm and peaceful. They are not trying to escape reality thru alcohol or other drugs. This is the easy way out but is neither honorable nor satisfactory.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

Hoarseness is normal at this age when a youngster is overstimulated. There is no need for concern since the symptom vanishes with relaxation.

Husband Gets Hair Cut Much Too Short

By HARRY JUSTER

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Every time my husband goes to a barber he has his hair cut so close he looks like he's been scalped. I don't think it's at all becoming. Regardless of what I say, I can't get him to try a neat trim. He seems to feel he's not getting his money's worth unless he's really shorn. Your help, please.

Mrs. M.L.S. Appearance-wise, he's getting clipped. It's true many men now prefer the close cropped cut. But there's a difference between this trim look and having the back of the neck and temples resemble a billiard ball. Tell him the secret is to have his hair cut so that he doesn't look as though he just had one.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Why do so many ads on men's wear use high sounding phrases without explaining their meaning? Recent amount of thyroid secretion can be the answer.

CAN'T RELAX

L. R. writes: Why does a person have trouble falling to sleep when he is overtired?

REPLY

In many instances he is overtired because he did something exciting or of great importance. It takes time to unwind and relax after such episodes. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on insomnia.

KNOBBY FINGERS

S. B. writes: I have been getting knots on the bones of my fingers. Will vitamins help get rid of these swellings?

REPLY

No. The knobs (Heberden's nodes) represent a special type of arthritis that is limited to the fingers. Pain associated with each node seldom lasts longer than 6 months but some swelling persists as a sign that "the old gray mare ain't what she used to be."

Elvis Spends Last Few Hours In Service

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Sgt. Elvis Presley spent his last few hours in the Army Friday night. Then he's Memphis-bound before resuming the rock 'n' roll road.

The 24-year-old singer spent the final full day of his two-year Army hitch going through paper work needed to complete his record. He stripped the sergeant's chevrons from his extra uniforms so they could be used again after he turns them in.

He is due to sign his severance papers and draw his final pay check Saturday morning.

Presley's Army buddies say he is keeping mum about just where he will go when he leaves Ft. Dix about 9 a.m. Saturday. But he told newsmen Thursday that he plans to go home to Memphis, Tenn., for a few weeks before resuming his show business career.

TIP FOR THE DAY

Shoes Are Your Sole Support Treat your shoes as a friend. Otherwise they may kick back at you by pinching, sagging or slipping at the heel and become a dejected part of your outfit. Use plenty of polish, keep in shoe trees, reheel and they'll make life easier for you as well as add to your appearance.

Mr. Juster will be glad to answer your questions. His new leaflet, "Knots Problems" will show you how to get an attractive knot in your tie, whether it's a four-in-hand or a bow. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the leaflet. Address Harry Juster in care of The World.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: There are a number of apparel items that I don't like or use as they feel uncomfortable. Namely garters, suspenders, woolen trousers that chafe and neckties. Especially the latter. They feel like a noose around the neck. Naturally, you wouldn't agree. Any Comments?

Mr. T. You have practically no problem. Garters aren't a necessity. Most hosiery is made to stay up. A belt can replace suspenders by wearing lower rise trousers. Staying to smooth-finished fabrics will eliminate wool chafing. But neckties That is not what's causing the noose feeling. Tight shirt collars will do that. Wear them fairly

FROM EARTHQUAKES

Final Death Toll May Reach 12,000

AGADIR, Morocco (AP) — Rescue operations in earthquake-shattered Agadir were order to be suspended at midnight Friday, officials announced. The final count of the dead from two quakes a tidal wave, and fire may reach 12,000.

American military units participating in the operations will be withdrawn, an American Embassy spokesman said. Demolition operations were ordered steppedup. The native quarter of the city have been leveled.

Only one weak survivor was pulled from the wreckage during the day.

Crown Prince Moulay Hassan, heir to Morocco's throne who has taken personal charge of the rescue work, said the known dead now total 4,000 and 6,000 more are presumed dead. A final total of 12,000 would not be an exaggeration, he told newsmen at his rescue headquarters three miles outside this once-beautiful resort city on the Atlantic Coast.

Medical teams applied chlorine, DDT, and quicklime to the entire city to ward off disease. All workers were equipped with surgical masks.

A tight ring of troops surround the city where 40,000 people once lived. The crown prince said quarantine will be maintained for at least five weeks with the help of 3,700 troops en route to bolster the guard.

Despite fear of disease, U. S. Air Force doctors reported no outbreaks so far. But the odor of death hangs over the city.

"Human hands cannot work any more because of the pestilential smell," the crown prince said.

He appeared drawn and tired as he met with newsmen for a few minutes.

In Rabat his father, King Mohammed V, went quietly to prayers and asked his countrymen to join him in praying for the victims. This is the first Friday, the Moslem Sabbath of Ramadan, the Moslem holy month of daytime fasting and devout religious observance.

Rescue workers in the battered city are considering dynamiting some sections where damaged buildings teeter precariously, but no final decisions have been made. Bulldozers are on hand to raze other sections.

The government denied it is considering the use of napalm or jellied gasoline to scorch the earth of the town, as some press reports have indicated. Officials said this idea had been brought up among many other propositions to combat disease but was rejected.

Thousands of Moroccans living in ragged tent cities on the outskirts of Agadir are still in need of blankets, rescuers said. Sweltering temperatures have hampered rescue work during the day, but the African nights are often chilly.

These thousands of refugees were forbidden to return to search for missing relatives or gather their possessions. Fear of disease was too great. Special passes were required to go into town.

In Agadir's port, a fleet of U.S., French, Spanish, Dutch and British ships baked bread for the survivors. The ships' giant water-plant began providing enough fresh water for the first time since the disaster struck around midnight Monday.

An international airlift continued carrying out the injured on planes came in on the return flights, an around-the-clock basis. Supplies came in on the return flights, an around-the-clock basis. Supplies came in on the return flights, an around-the-clock basis.

Ouachita Group Plans To Attend Water Hearing

Ouachita Parish is expected to be represented at a water hearing involving area streams at McGehee, Ark. next Thursday, a meeting conducted by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

According to a release by the corps, the hearing will include proposed improvements for the Ouachita River, plus Bayou Bartholomew which runs through Morehouse Parish into the Ouachita.

Ward 1 jurymen F. G. Studdard said yesterday he would attempt to organize representation from the Police Jury for the meeting.

In addition, Jack Rushing, board member of the Ouachita Wildlife Unit, said that a wildlife delegation from Monroe would attend the hearing.

Studdard said he would bring the matter before the Police Jury at its meetings Tuesday and Wednesday.

Enforced Loyalty

Neither love nor loyalty can be compelled. Because of that fact a California court is breaking into an unknown area of human nature when it seeks to compel loyalty of union members by state law.

The ruling would demand the loyalty of union members not only to their union but to whatever political causes the union might undertake.

The move represents strong labor reaction to a California "Right to Work" law of 1958, sponsored by Cecil C. Mitchell and John Mulgrew. Such a law—once in effect in Louisiana but voted out of existence in 1956—states that memberships or non-membership in a union should not be a condition to employment.

Although many union members would prefer such a law, the International Union of Machinists in California opposed the 1958 legislation and it was defeated. Mitchell and Mulgrew were expelled for supporting "right to work" and were refused reinstatement.

But then came the surprise of the entire case. Superior Judge Jesse J. Frampton ruled a union has the legal power to expel any member it deems a threat to its welfare and that in view of organized labor's official stand on "right to work" a union was correct and right in expelling "disloyal" members who publicly advocated such a law.

If unions were indeed voluntary organizations—and a few in the United States fall in that category—there would be no quarrel with such a stand for organization loyalty. But most union membership in the nation today is not voluntary—it is a necessary prerequisite to holding a job. A worker takes the union and the job or neither.

If a member is expelled for such a "disloyalty," he is allowed to hold onto the job he has but must continue to pay dues to the union which for all other purposes booted him out. There is always the possibility and threat that if that job plays out, the expelled worker may find it almost impossible to get another.

It is hoped the California decision will be appealed. As it now stands, the law says unions can expel workers who openly support such a law. This is only one step removed from expelling workers who vote for candidates who are known supporters of "right to work" legislation. This could easily develop into a demand that labor refrain from taking part in public expression and support for candidates or issues who follow anything except the union's wishes.

This challenge to a basic freedom could be one of the reasons why national union membership dropped during the years 1956-58. The Bureau of Labor Statistics showed a decline of 400,000 members during those years with 300,000 of the lot falling in the white collar category.

Perhaps this in itself is a vote against union partisan politics which in some instances goes so far as to write into state laws the denial of workers to take any political position they may choose.

his pocket if he finds the driver guilty and a $5 loss if he finds him innocent."

Again the Judicature Journal comments:

"The word 'payola' does not appear in our copy of Webster's New International Dictionary, but it is quite certain to find its way into the next edition, with a definition in terms of commercial bribery with particular reference to radio and recorded music. But the word is catching on fast to describe payoffs of all kinds.

"Let's keep payola out of the administration of justice!"

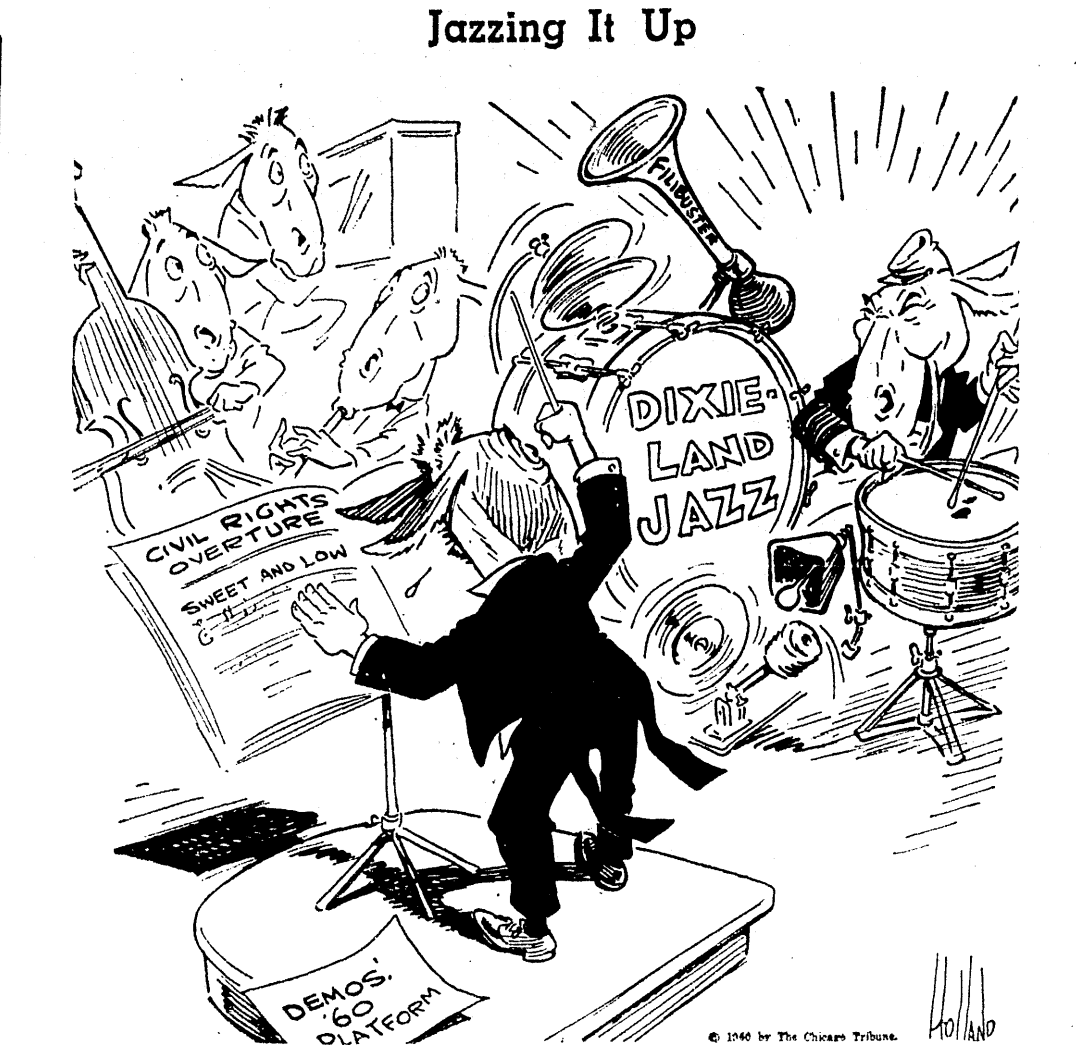

Undoubtedly, there are some justices of the peace who can place justice above the fee that awaits them if they find a defendant guilty. These men would rather lose $5 than find an innocent man guilty. Even among the most honest, however, the fee might have a little weight if the case were one in which the guilt or innocence of the defendant was in doubt.

Furthermore, the honest J.P. is placed at a distinct disadvantage. When an officer makes an arrest he is saying the person he has taken into custody is guilty. Otherwise, he would not arrest him. If he knows one J.P. will convict the man and that another may acquit him he is more likely to take him where there will be a conviction, even if there is no payoff. With a payoff, he is placed in the same class with the J.P. Convictions mean payoffs.

That is the major fault of the fee system.

"One of the greatest methods of obtaining information is by reading a good newspaper. And the place to learn how to do this is in school. So I read with much interest of the following experiment. . . .

"After using newspapers for two years as a classroom textbook in contemporary living and as a supplement to books, junior high schools teachers in Austin, Texas, find them invaluable in making subject matter more meaningful and in stimulating interest in reading."

Connally Reservation
Amendment Is A Declaration Limiting U.S. Acceptance Of World Court Jurisdiction

The Connally Reservation is again before the Senate. It is a sign of the times that the people are not as excited about it in 1960 as they were in 1946 when it was passed. This Reservation is a declaration limiting the acceptance by the United States of the compulsory jurisdiction of the World Court. Were it not for the Connally Reservation, the World Court could have rendered decisions which might have meant intervention in the internal affairs of the United States.

The passage of the Connally Reservation disappointed those who had sought to develop the United Nations into a world government. In this, they failed at the time that the San Francisco Treaty was signed and whatever efforts they have since made have also failed because of the Russian use of the veto, the gang-ing up of the Asiatic and African nations on the United States, and the emergence of the underdeveloped countries. Practically every significant international conference, in recent years, has taken place outside of the United Nations, just as the planned Summit Conferences will take place outside of the United Nations.

The World Court is a useful body, but it was clearly understood at the time of the San Francisco Conference that the United Nations and the World Court would not "interfere with the domestic affairs of the states composing the United Nations."

The World Court is composed of 15 judges, of whom Frank E. Holman, an outstanding lawyer who has specialized in this phase of international law, says:

"... Only three judges are from common law countries, four

HOLMES ALEXANDER
Kennedy's Bill
Labor Measure Could Murder Candidate
If It Should Pass

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "It would often prove the saddest day in a politician's life," said Vernon J. Veritas, the compulsive truth-teller, "if his expressed wishes actually came true. Half the presidential candidates now wailing and gnashing their teeth would look like brides left at the altar if their lamentations were suddenly cut short by satisfaction of their demands."

Was Mr. Veritas talking about Candidate Hubert Humphrey's utopian plans like "Food for Peace"? Or did he have in mind Candidate Stuart Symington's "Close the Missi'e Gap" mission?

It's certainly a fact," said Veritas, who cannot tell a lie, "that Senators Humphrey and Symington would look as lonesome as a pair of stood-up brides if these issues were removed. But I had in mind two less obvious and more complicated examples. They concern Candidates Jack Kennedy (D) and James Mitchell (R.).

Undoubtedly Mr. Veritas had reference to Jack Kennedy's panting desire (expressed in his bill S. 1046) to raise the Minimum Wage from $1.00 to $1.25 and to increase its coverage to include something like 11,000,000 additional workers.

"That is true," said the old truth-teller. "Senator Kennedy entered this bill for passage. He is a member of the Labor-Welfare Committee where it is now pending. But young Mr. Kennedy would be the most disappointed man in the Wisconsin and New Hampshire primaries if this bill suddenly emerged from committee and was rushed to quick passage, with his name on it."

Mr. Veritas was right about that. The Kennedy bill is far more radical than the Administration measure which asks for no increase of Minimum Wage and would spread the present wage to only about 2,500,000 more workers. Some Labor leaders forced Kennedy to introduce and give his backing to the bill—but its passage could murder him among the Small Business communities in Wisconsin and New Hampshire, as well as among the farmers. The Kennedy bill would hurt Kennedy as much as the Steel Strike settlement is said to have hurt Nixon. It hangs the albatross of an inflation measure around their unwilling necks.

"Thus we have," said Veritas, "the paradoxical situation of Kennedy standing to lose a couple of primaries, and possibly his presidential chances, if a Kennedy bill should be enacted. But I wouldn't want to leave the impression that only Democratic

JOHN HARRIS
Tires Deductible
Turkeys, Hams And Similar Gifts Not Subject To Taxes

You're the exception if you don't find some tax-savings information of value to you in this last column of this year's tax series.

If you're among the millions of businessmen, salesmen and others who use cars or trucks for business, you can benefit from a newly liberalized Treasury rule for deducting the costs of tires and tubes.

When you buy a new car or truck, it's unlikely that you deduct the full cost of the tires and tubes in the year of purchase, but instead you probably depreciate the entire cost of the vehicle. Last year, though, the Treasury approved an attractive, immediate tax-saving deduction for the full cost of the tires and tubes—the only condition being that you must be able to show that the tires and tubes will not last for more than a year. While you don't get a separate bill for tires and tubes when you buy a new car, truck, etc., that's no problem. Use a figure equal to what it would cost you to buy new tires and tubes.

If you're an employee who at Christmas or other holiday times, receives gifts of turkeys, hams, etc., the Treasury finally has cleared up the question of whether they're taxable income to you. They're not.

Under a 1959 ruling, the Treasury says these items are not taxable to the employee nor subject to withholding or social security tax, by the employer if the gifts were part of a general distribution intended to promote goodwill among employees. This doesn't go, however, for gifts of cash or items of readily convertible cash value.

If you're among the many employees required to live on your employer's premises, the Treasury gave you welcome relief last year.

Under its old rule, it held that if an employee was required to accept free board and lodging on the employer's premises, the value was not part of his taxable income, but if his salary was raised by the value of the board and lodging and he then was charged for it, the extra salary was taxable income to him—even though the net result was precisely the same. Now, the Treasury has agreed that the employee shouldn't be taxed from which you must pay the value of your required board and lodging on the employer's premises, only pay the tax on the salary reduced by the charge for the board and lodging.

If you were on strike last year and received strike benefits from your union, you have two choices on handling them.

The Treasury insists that these strike benefits are taxable, but a case now pending before the Supreme Court will decide whether they are. Meanwhile, if this involves you, either include the strike benefits as income and immediately file a refund claim, or omit these benefits from your income now and, if the Supreme Court then holds them taxable, pay up the tax plus the minor amount of interest due.

If you're a businessman who reads a variety of papers and periodicals to keep up with world affairs, politics, business conditions, etc., a court last year gave you a rule of thumb on deducting their cost.

The cost of periodicals of general interest, such as "Time," said the court, was not a business expense. But the cost of periodicals more directly concerned with business matters, such as the "Wall Street Journal," was held a proper deduction. You can apply this guide to yourself.

If you're the owner of a small corporation who follows a common practice of just drawing a check on the corporation and showing it as a loan from the firm when you need money, heed this warning.

The Tax Court last year supported the Treasury in calling yearly increases in these loans—and the loan total often grows larger year by year—as taxable dividends to the owner. Moral: If at all possible, pay back those loans. Or at least give the corporation an interest-bearing note and live up to some specific method of repayment.

DR. PETER J. STEINCHRON
Are Pilots Safe?
Health Tests And Extra Men In
Planes Great Guarantees

"Dear Dr. Steinchron: When I get into commercial planes (my business frequently takes me all over the country) I have great faith in the planes but often wonder what protection the public gets from the pilots up front.

"How do we know that the man at the controls is healthy? Occasionally when flying high above the clouds, that thought pops into my mind. — Mr. A., Denver, Colo."

ANSWER: You are not the only one. I doubt that there is one person who hasn't thought of it occasionally.

I have had many reassuring letters from pilots who have said that co-pilots and flight engineers aren't "just along for the ride." If anything happens to the captain, there's always someone to take over. Besides, all these people get physical checkups.

You will be interested, I think, in a report that I have just read in the A. M. A. News which underlines the safety measures which the government takes in commercial and other flying.

The Federal Aviation Agency has set rigid health standards. The civil air surgeon has final say on licenses. Applicants will be disqualified if medical history shows: 1. Diabetes mellitus which requires insulin or other hypoglycemic drugs for control. 2. Myocardial infarction (heart congestion). 3. Angina pectoris or other evidence of coronary heart disease.

Disqualifying mental or nervous conditions, according to the new rules, are: "A character or behavior disorder which is sufficiently severe to have repeatedly manifested itself by overt acts, a psychotic disorder, chronic alcoholism, drug addiction, epilepsy, or a disturbance of consciousness without satisfactory medical explanation of the cause."

Feel better, Mr. A.?

Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor. — Romans 13:7

A Christian is a good citizen. We complain of taxes and inefficiency in government, perhaps, but we have a remedy for such faults in the ballot. Until political leaders fail or are replaced, therefore, it is the duty of citizens to support them, pay a just share of taxes, obey the laws and support movements that are for the general good. There is no conflict between Christianity and good government. The good churchman is a civic asset.

Heavenly Father, help us to be good members of the church and of our political society, doing our share in each. In Christ's name we ask, Amen.

My Only Gift To You

DEAR one, you are so good to me . . . In every loving way . . . I wish that I could offer you . . . A present every day . . . A gift of gold or silver or . . . Some other precious thing . . . A good luck piece with all the joy . . . A charm could ever bring . . . And to reveal how much, my love . . . I am in love with you . . . I wish I had a magic wand . . . To make your dreams come true . . . But I am poor in worldly goods . . . And in ability . . . To find the fitting phrases for . . . My deep sincerity . . . And so my only present is . . . My gratitude sincere . . . As every night and day I pray . . . "God love and bless you, dear."

Keller Named President Of PAR Group

BATON ROUGE, (Special) — Charles Keller, Jr., prominent business and civic leader of New Orleans, has been elected president of the public Affairs Research Council (PAR), succeeding Felix F. Kurz of Lafayette.

PAR, a non-partisan, privately-financed governmental research agency, observed its tenth anniversary at a dinner meeting Friday night when members elected Keller as the new president.

Other officers elected were: Vertrees Young of Bogalusa, first vice-president; Dr. John W. Deming of Alexandria, secretary; and A. M. Curtis, Baton Rouge, treasurer.

ELECTED

Other officers and executive committee members elected were:

Regional vice-president — Carlos C. Spahl, Baton Rouge; W. H. Bronson, Shreveport; L. D. Kellogg, Alexandria; F. K. Dowdy, Lafayette; Sam H. Jones, Lake Charles; H. D. Burkhalter, Ruston; Morgan Whitney, New Orleans.

Executive Committee — Paul Borron, Jr., Plaquemine; Henry B. Clay, Shreveport; George Hall, Alexandria; Jacob Landry, New Iberia; George C. Weeks, Monroe; and Laurence Williams, New Orleans.

Serving also on the executive committee will be the following past presidents, in addition to Kurz: F. Hugh Coughlin, Alexandria; R. D. Kellogg, Monroe; Eben Hardie, New Orleans; Joe D. Smith, Jr., Alexandria; Parrish Fuller, Oakdale; and E. H. Taussig, Lake Charles.

Keller, the new president of PAR, is president of Keller Construction Co. of New Orleans. He is a former colonel of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and has been awarded a number of military honors, including the Legion of Honor and the French Croix de Guerre.

POSITIONS

In addition to serving in many responsible positions in professional organizations, Keller has been active in civic affairs of New Orleans. He is a former president of the United Fund of New Orleans and of the Travelers Aid Society of New Orleans, and he is presently chairman of a committee of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce concerned with revitalizing the downtown business district. He served as first vice-president of PAR during the past year.

"Continuing on the Board of Trustees are:"

Baritone Dies While On Stage

NEW YORK (AP) — Leonard Warren, one of the Metropolitan's leading baritones, collapsed and died on stage Friday night during a performance.

Warren, 49, collapsed during the second act of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," in which he was singing the role of Don Carlo.

The 6-foot singer fell in full view of a horrified audience. The curtain was rung down immediately.

City Courts

MONROE

One person received three ten-month sentences and another was fined $50 or 30 days on theft charges in Monroe city court yesterday, with Judge W. M. Harper presiding.

Robert W. Hardy, 106 Sixth street, was found guilty of the theft charge, and Herman McGee, 1502 Wood street, received the three jail terms on two counts of simple battery and one of concealed weapon.

Among other city court cases yesterday were four on simple battery, three on reckless driving, two each on speeding and public drunkenness, one on vagrancy and nine on minor traffic offenses.

WEST MONROE

In West Monroe city court, Judge Jasper Jones sentenced one person on speeding charges and another on running a stop sign. Charges of reckless driving and causing a wreck were withdrawn for lack of evidence.

Help Sought For Injured Monroe Man

Financial aid is being sought for a local man who was hurt in a Chicago traffic accident last week that resulted in amputation of both legs below the knees and a broken arm.

Johnny Hernandez, 35, a Monroe resident of 314 North 4th street, sustained the injuries as he was checking the tail lights of his auto transport trailer and was struck by another vehicle.

Mrs. H. L. McPhail, who is heading a committee to assist the family, said Mrs. Hernandez is expecting her fourth child in a few days.

Contributions, she said, should be sent to the Church of Christ, 401 Slack street, West Monroe, tomorrow and Monday. Mrs. McPhail also requested assistance from persons who could make house calls to pick up contributions.

FHA Announces New Insurance Nurse Program

The Federal Housing Administration yesterday announced that a new Nursing - Home Mortgage Insurance program has been established.

Harry F. Allen, director of the Shreveport FHA Insuring Office, said the program was intended to help provide needed housing for convalescents and other persons hospitalized.

Allen pointed out that the mortgage could be a corporation, trust, partnership, or individual approved by FHA and regulated by charter or by regulatory agreement.

FCC Chairman Defends Action Before Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House payola investigators Friday criticized Chairman John C. Doerfer of the Federal Communications Commission to his face for accepting the hospitality of a broadcasting company president.

But Doerfer stoutly defended his conduct. He told the House investigating subcommittee there was nothing wrong in his action. He said the executive, George R. Storer, president of the Storer Broadcasting Co., has no adjudicatory matter pending before the FCC.

Subcommittee members disagreed. They compared his acceptance of overnight hospitality aboard Storer's yacht with a disc jockey's acceptance of "payola" and gifts from friends in the recording industry.

Doerfer conceded Thursday he was a guest aboard Storer's yacht off and on for about six days during a recent Florida vacation. He testified Friday that he and his wife also spent some nights aboard the craft.

Harry Greenwood

H. Greenwood School Board Entry Here

A third candidate for the Monroe City School Board announced Friday. He is Harry E. Greenwood, 38-year-old southside service station owner and operator.

Already formally in the race are J. H. "Slim" Scogins Jr. and Frank C. Breese Jr.

Greenwood is a graduate of Neville High School and seeking a political post for the first time.

A veteran of both World War II and the Korean conflict, he is the father of three children, one now attending Thomas Jefferson Junior High, a second in Barkdull Faulk Elementary and a third of pre-school age.

Greenwood is active in the First Methodist Church of Monroe. His statement:

STATEMENT

"I am seeking one of the five posts on the school board for the Monroe City School.

"I began my public school education at Barkdull F a u l k and from there entered and later graduated from Neville High School. I am grateful for the opportunity I had of learning the American way of life in our local schools.

RESPONSIBILITY

"I think it is the responsibility of my generation to see that all our children have the same opportunity to appreciate the American way of life that I had.

"It is my belief that the school board should determine the policy where business is concerned, but should solicit the advice of the teaching personnel in matters of curriculum. They are trained professionally in these matters and benefit by having the teachers' advice and recommendations.

"I firmly believe we can make our schools keep pace with the best in the land if we cooperate and work for the best interest of our boys and girls. If elected to the School Board, I pledge to put the welfare of our children first in every decision.

"In reference to integration, I am for equal but separate facilities and will work earnestly to continue this system."

Easter Seal, Cancer Society Drives Slated

The American Cancer Society and Crippled Children's Easter Seal campaign have received approval to conduct drives in Monroe.

Approval came yesterday at the hands of the Public Appeals and Solicitations Council, a division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Jim Williams, general manager, said a bulletin would be sent to the 600 members of the council in regards to the action.

Approval came at a board meeting, presided over by chairman Paul Goldman.

The Ouachita Chapter of the American Cancer Society will conduct its annual drive here in April.

Third Judge Proposal Now Under Study

Six area attorneys will decide Monday whether to recommend a third judgeship for Ouachita and Morehouse parishes.

The committee, headed by Monroe attorney Joe Guerriero, will discuss the matter in closed session Monday night, then report its decision to the Fourth District Bar Association.

District Judge David I. Garrett, soon to seek re-election, recommended the third judgeship to the bar association recently. However, several attorneys interviewed privately, all of whom asked not to be identified, have voiced opposition to the proposal.

'CROWDED'

Murphy Blackwell, president of the Fourth District Bar Association, explained that attorneys in the two parishes were having trouble bringing their cases to court due to a "crowded docket."

Blackwell also appointed a committee, headed by Monroe lawyer W. L. Crowe, to study the crowded docket problem and seek other solutions.

"We're going to try to streamline the present system," Crowe said, "in an effort to keep the docket from being so crowded."

Crowe's committee includes Guerriero and Monroe attorneys Dhu Thompson and Jesse McDonald.

Guerriero's group is composed of local attorneys McVey Oliver, Fred Fudickar Jr., Paul Fink and Murray Hudson and Bastrop attorney Woodrow Wilson.

City Briefs

Tuesday has been set for the meeting date of scouts in the central district, Ouachita Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America. The meeting will be in the Louis Locke Room of the Ouachita Parish Public Library at 7:30 p.m., according to Frank K. McDermott, district chairman.

McDermott said that several phases of scouting in the district will be discussed.

Short Session Here Friday In District Court

Friday, usually a "hardworking day" for District Court judges, became a "short session" yesterday as only five men appeared before the bench.

"Fifth week" — the fifth week of any month — means no felony or civil court trials.

Judge Jesse Heard fined Matthew James Riley, 29, of Tulsa, Okla. $300 and costs for driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages, and set aside Riley's bond for forfeiture.

Two Negroes charged with stealing $19 worth of scrap iron drew six-month suspended sentences. Virdeil Wright and Martis Wright, both of 706 Thomas St., were ordered to pay court costs.

Ivy Morris Lewis, brought into court on charges of probation violation, was discharged.

Charles McElfresh, 27, of Route 4, Oak Grove, was fined $225 Thursday on two offenses. Yesterday pled guilty to driving with defective brakes and was fined $25.

Safety Rating Of Post Office Here Is High

Monroe's Post Office holds a high rating when it comes to safety.

It took sixth place in the national Post Office Department Industrial Safety Contest for 1959. Results were announced yesterday, during Job Safety Week.

Seventy-six post offices of comparable size — employing from 100 to 124 workers — competed in this division of the contest.

The local post office received only one set-back in 1959 — one man was off work one day when he mashed his finger on a satchel cart.

First place in the Contest went to the Covina, Calif. office.

Monroe Postmaster W. W. Hathorn looks forward to the local office placing in the top three for this year.

He congratulated all employees and Safety Officer George Bruce for the fine safety record.

"The commendable showing by Postal employees indicates alertness," he stressed.

Charity Shop Slates Sale Of Clothing

The charity Thrift shop, where used clothing is sold at low prices in a project sponsored by the Monroe Junior Charity League, has reopened at 500 Pine street.

It was announced yesterday.

Good used clothing donated by friends and members of the non profit League is being sold at the shop today from 9 a.m. to 12 noon for half price.

The shop is run entirely on a volunteer basis by members of the League and all profits are used for charity and community projects by the organization.

Rites Today For Eugene Boyette, Accident Victim

WINNFIELD (Special) — Final rites will be held Saturday for a 31-year-old victim of a Tuesday automobile accident. Eugene Boyett died Thursday night of injuries sustained Tuesday when he was thrown from his automobile after losing control.

The accident occurred 2 miles north of Tullos.

Boyett was an employee of a local department store.

Services will be at 10:30 a.m. in the chapel of Southern Funeral Home with the Rev. William Nixon officiating. Interment will follow in the Garden of Memories cemetery here.

Surviving are his widow and two daughters Carla and Karen, all of Winnfield; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Boyett, Olla; one sister, Mrs. Carolyn Stroud, Grayson, and his grandmother, Mrs. Ella Webb, Winnfield.

Heart Campaign Held Locally Is Rated Success

The 1960 Heart Fund campaign which officially ended last Monday was a gratifying success, in spite of the inclement weather here on Heart Sunday, Sam Rubin Jr., fund drive chairman, announced yesterday.

Total Heart Fund contributions in Ouachita Parish have reached nearly $8,000.00. This amount will be increased by collections made by volunteers who have not yet submitted their reports.

"The Louisiana Heart Association," Rubin said, "is delighted with these results because they indicate the residents of Ouachita Parish and its business community recognize the importance of the Heart Fund in making possible our attack on the heart diseases through research, education and community service."

He also, on behalf of the Heart Association, wished to thank all residents, newspapers and broadcasting stations who have helped make this campaign a success.

Assault Case Brings Formal Charges Here

Sheriff officials yesterday formally charged a local man with aggravated rape after he confessed to the offense, Sheriff Bailey Grant said.

The man was identified as Billy Reno, 28, 1203 Alabama street. He was being held in the parish jail without bond.

The offense allegedly was committed last year, but authorities said they did not learn of the matter until this week. A 12-year old girl was victim in the case.

In another case, about $15 was reported taken in the burglary of a local cafe late Thursday or early Friday morning, according to Monroe police who are investigating the case.

Entrance to the Polka Dot cafe, 208 Ouachita Avenue, was gained by removing the hasp on a door to the building.

The money was taken from the jukebox, officers said.

Bonds Sold For S 2nd Underpass

Commissioner of Finance H. W. McSherry yesterday picked up a check for $305,000 in New Orleans to be used in Monroe for the construction of the S. 2nd Street underpass.

McSherry's trip to New Orleans climaxed a transaction with Ducourmau and Kees, a New Orleans investment firm purchasing the bonds from the City of Monroe.

Funds from the sale will be used on a matching basis with the Department of Highways in building the S. 2nd Street underpass.

McSherry, accompanied by City Atty. Haynes Harkey Jr. and Monroe banker John Rudisill, certified the bonds in Baton Rouge before transacting the sale in New Orleans.

AWARDED

The firm was awarded the sale on a bid-basis acted on by the City Council several weeks ago. Back in Monroe, McSherry explained that the money was turned over to Central Savings Bank and Trust Co., trustee for the funds.

As it stands now, the Department of Highways is completing plans for the underpass, a four-lane structure designed to eliminate traffic problems.

Police Parade Postponed, Was Set For Today

A parade originally scheduled for today featuring the Monroe Auxiliary Police Department for its assistance to city officials has been postponed.

Police Chief James C. Kelly Jr. yesterday said the reason for postponing the event was because equipment was not ready for display.

Original plans called for featuring auxiliary police equipment, as well as the auxiliary policemen.

However, the city still will honor a meter-holiday today because of Monroe's no-fatality record in two years.

Auxiliary policemen, recognized for their efforts in helping the Monroe Police Department curb traffic accidents, will be on the streets today too.

All parking meters will have a holiday.

Man To Face Tax Hearing

Raymond Moore of Ouachita parish faces a court hearing on March 14, on charges that he failed to pay employment compensation taxes for 21 months.

Richard E. Brown Jr., Administrator of the Division of Employment Security of the Department of Labor filed the suit, asking $219.64, with the parish Clerk of Court yesterday.

The suit asks for the amount, plus penalty and interest. It charges that Moore failed to pay his taxes from April 1, 1938 to Dec. 31, 1959.

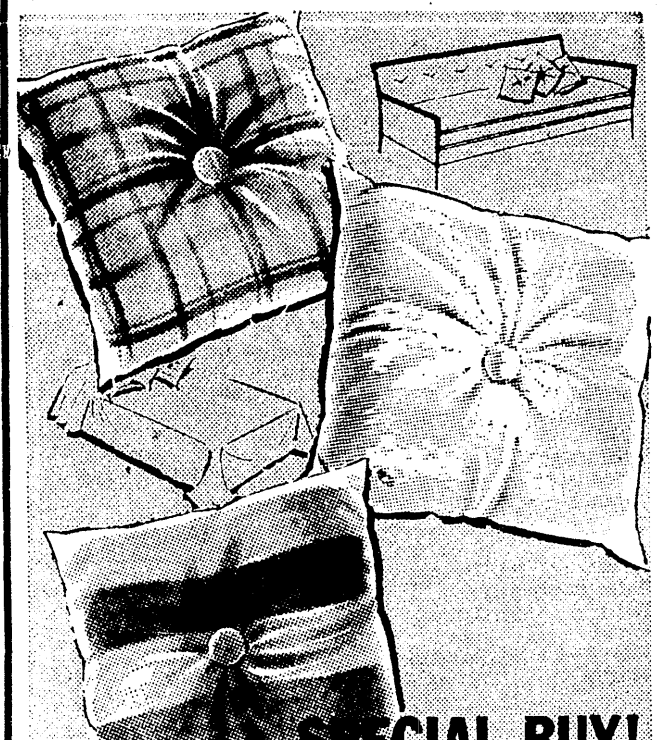

A hearing is slated at 9:30 a.m. March 14, in Fourth District Court.

Kennedy Files Formal Entry In Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb., (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts Friday filed formal entry in the Nebraska Democratic presidential primary. Sixteen Democratic National Convention votes are at stake here May 10.

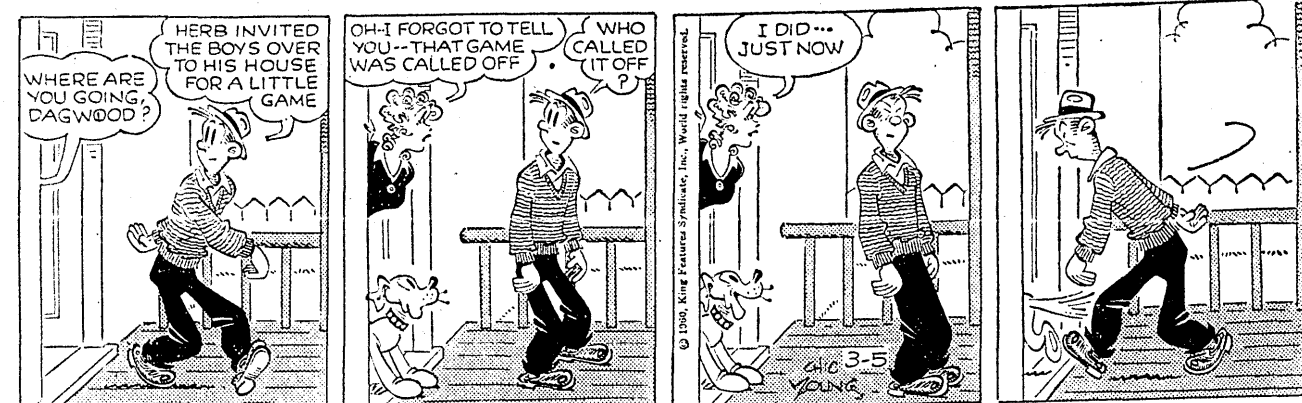

First to file in the Nebraska race, Kennedy stopped off here en route to Hutchinson, Kan., where he was to address a Democratic state convention Friday night along with his rival for the presidential nomination, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

In a letter to Nebraska Secretary of State Frank Marsh which he delivered in person, Kennedy said he welcomed the opportunity to present his credentials to the voters of a state where farm issues are so vital.

"I have fought for higher price supports, rural electrification and other programs for the farmer," Kennedy said, "not because my constituents demanded them, but because I believe in them."

THE PICTURE OF CHRIST IN OUR HOME

By DORIS D. FORMAN
Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Three years ago, after a series of material blessings, we were able to buy a fine new home. "Since God gave us the increase," my husband said, "what about having a picture of Christ in our living room?"

Outwardly, I agreed with him, but inwardly I wasn't so sure.

Busy days followed with the many details of moving into a new home. When the decorator came out to check on lamps and pictures one day, he found the 16x20" print of "The Saviour," by Coleman, which my husband had hung over the piano in the most prominent place in our living room.

"We must select a picture to go in that spot," the decorator observed.

"We have and that is it," my husband answered. "Hmmm, a picture of Christ? Well, of course if you could have an original it might be all right, but a print..."

"We like it, and that's where it stays," my husband replied firmly.

Since the matter of the picture first came up, I had been struggling with conflicting emotions. Of course, we were Christians and, of course we loved God — but a large picture of Christ hanging in the living room... and in a spot where everyone who stepped into the room would see it... wasn't that being a bit fanatical?

Most of our friends were professed Christians, but they lived largely in a world of club affairs, cocktail parties and bridge lunches. What would they think?

But even as I began thinking that the picture might look better on the bedroom wall (where few would ever see it), a Bible verse kept nagging at my mind: "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I deny before my Father which is in heaven."

MUCH SOUL SEARCHING
Was I being ashamed of Christ? Did I have a nice compartmentalized religion that allowed me to go to a fine church in my good clothes on Sunday, but didn't permit me to confess Christ any other way, at any other time? By my reluctance to hang His picture in my living room, was I — as did Peter — denying my Lord... "I do not know the man."

I did much soul searching and what I found did not make me happy — so I just kept quiet. The picture remained on our living room wall.

During the next two years many things happened to us because of this picture. A salesman once looked at it and then almost in awe whispered, "He not only looks at you, He speaks to you." Recently, after coming to my house for monthly Cub Scout meetings, a friend commented, "It's such a joy to come here each month, and relax in the peace and warmth of your home."

STRANGE HAPPENING
But wasn't it His peace and His presence that she really felt? And then a few months ago I became conscious of a strange happening. Total strangers — such as the man who delivers our papers — began telling us their troubles.

As more and more people began unbending themselves, I suddenly realized the reason — it was that picture of Christ. Consciously, or maybe unconsciously, they felt that we must know Christ, and if we knew Him, maybe we could mention them in our prayers (which we do) and He could help.

Our club friends? We see them, but now our relationships are much less superficial. There is not very much time for bridge. And since we work so much with our church teen-agers, cocktails just don't seem to fit into our world any more.

LIFE HAS MORE MEANING
To sum it up, our life today has more purpose, more meaning and more beauty.

But I often wonder what would have happened if we had hung a landscape instead of His blessed picture. The skeptic may say the picture had nothing to do with it — and of course, there were other factors.

But this much I know — you can't live in a house with Him, and ever be the same again.

SECOND MEET FOR NORTHEAST

Tribe Trackmen, McNeese To Tangle At Lake Charles

After easily besting some of the top major college track powers in the southeast in the Coliseum Relays, Northeast's track team takes on a companion Gulf States Conference team today at Lakes Charles when the Indians face McNeese's dark-horse Cowboys.

Today's meet, to be held at the Lake Charles High School grid field, will get underway with the field events at 1:30. The first track event will be run at 2:30.

Coach Charley Kuehn has only four lettermen back from last year's Cowboy squad which finished third in the GSC behind Northeast and Northwestern. But highly-regarded junior college transfers, notably a trio of swift sprinters, have strengthened the McNeese team.

Northeast probably has an even better squad than the one that took the GSC crown last year. Lew Hartog's Indians more than doubled the score of their nearest competitor in the Montgomery Ala., Coliseum Relays two weeks ago, breaking six meet records in the process.

Northeast scored 43 points at Montgomery to 20 for runnerup Kentucky.

The prize Cowboys sprinters are Texas junior college products — Clyde Dabbs, Sammy Kruse and Fred Thompson of Howard. The three helped Howard win the state junior college championship in 1959. The Cowboys also have another swiftie in Robert Sullivan, a freshman who won the Third Air Force century last year.

Dabbs has run the 100 in 9.6. Kruse has run the distance in 9.7 and Thompson has recorded a 21.2 in the 200.

Northeast will count on Dave Styron and Roger Beumer in the sprints. Dave has run the 100 in 9.4 and Beumer has run the distance in 9.7. Styron also has been credited with a 20.6 in the 200.

The best of the returning "Poke" lettermen is Don Troutman, GSC record-holder in the broad jump. Troutman, also a star on the McNeese basketball team, has leaped 24-10 1/2 but his conference record is less, 23-7 1/2.

Weightman Al Nesmith, hurdler and quarter-mile Dick Harris and javelin thrower Jack Theriot are the other McNeese returning lettermen. Dave and Don Styron will again spearhead Northeast's effort. Dave will enter the sprints. Don the hurdles and both will run on the 440 and mile relay teams.

Distance ace Buddy Eliand will lead the Indian contingent in the mile and two mile. John Pennell will pole vault, frosh sensation Jerry Dyes will compete in the javelin and broad and high jump. Hoy Rogers and Buddy Copeland are the top Indian entries in the shot and discus. Jim Mouser in the 440, and Dick Hays in the 300.

Mouser and Hays will team with the Styrons on the mile relay team. Gene Christen, Beumer, Mouser and Dave Styron will probably run the 880 relay and the Styrons, Randall Walker and Beumer are the probable combination for the 440 relay.

Jack Clayton To Talk At Bernice Grid Banquet

BERNICE, La. (Special) — Coach Jack Clayton, head coach at Northwestern State College, will be guest speaker at the annual football banquet to be held in the Bernice cafeteria, Tuesday night, March 8.

Special awards will be presented to the Most Valuable Player, Best Back, and Best Linebacker. There were a total of 23 lettermen during the 1959 season who will receive various awards. Senior lettermen are Jimmy Harris, Lloyd Grafton and Jerry Lazenby; Junior lettermen are Freddy Dawson, Freddy Reeves, Sam Johnson, Bishop Buckley, Larry Hurst, and Clifford Simpson; Sophomore Awards are George Welch, Kermit Pilgreen, Ronny Fitzgerald, Rickey Albrighton, Johnny Buckley, Woody Reeder, Roger Reeves, Johnny Paine, Harold Jones, Shelby Cruise, Charles Colvin, Jerry Lutziger, and Minor Patton. Managers receiving awards are Robert Jackson and Ronnie Parker.

Pheasant will be served by the girl cheerleaders of 1959, who are as follows: Jo Heard, Carolyn Gresham, Judy Elliott, Jane Lee, Gayle Ferguson, and Jean Brown.

Nats Hurler Threatens To Return Home

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Pitcher Pedro Ramos arrived at the Washington Senators training camp Friday and threatened to go right back to his native Cuba unless Club President Calvin Griffith relents in his plan to cut Ramos' salary from an estimated $16,000 of last year.

"We aren't close," both Ramos and Griffith said. Griffith admitted he had offered the 24-year-old right-hander a pay slice.

"He won 13 games but he lost 19," said the Senators' boss. "and those were more defeats than anybody else had in the American League."

"I lost so many because I pitched so much," retorted Ramos. "I just bought a cigar factory in Pinar del Rio where I live. I might go back if Mr. Griffith and I don't get together soon," said Ramos.

Another arrival Friday was 17-game winner Camilo Pascual, who signed his 1960 contract as soon as the '59 season ended.

Griffith reported he and outfielder Jim Lemon were close in their negotiations. But he said that rookie of the year Bob Allison and pitcher Hal Griggs, the other two Washington holdouts were unheard from.

Winnsboro In 'A' Finals As Winn 6 Falls

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — All-state Claudine Watson scored 37 points here last night as Winnsboro whipped Winnfield, 43-36, to move into the girls' Class A state finals.

Winnsboro will meet Mt. Carmel of New Iberia in the championship game Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Catholic High gym at New Iberia. Mt. Carmel defeated Denham Springs, 55-46, last night to gain the berth opposite Winnsboro.

Linda Wiltshire popped in the opening field goal to give Winnsboro the lead and the hosts were never behind. Winnsboro led 25-17 at the half and outscored Winnfield in the third period to win handily.

Patsy Finney bagged 16 points and Mary Taylor netted 15 for the losers.

Score by quarters:
Winnsboro 14 11 14 9-42
Winnfield 6 11 7 12-36

Nine Records May Fall In IC4A Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—John Thomas, Boston's world champion jumper is expected to lead a wholesale assault on meet records Saturday night in the IC4A Track Championships.

Record possibilities exist in 9 of the 13 varsity events which wind up the indoor season at Madison Square Garden.

Thomas, who has done 7 feet 2 inches, is a virtual cinch to top the IC4A mark of 6 feet 9 1/2 inches. He soars over 7 feet as easily as he takes off his shoes.

The 6-5 Bostonian will not race in the 60-yard high hurdles, concentrating on the jump. Asa Bushnell, the meet director, said he anticipated records in the 600 yards, 1,000 yards, 2 miles, 60-yard sprint, high hurdles and 55-pound weight as well as the mile relay.

Jim Stack of Yale, the favorite in the 600, has run the distance in 1:10.5 this year, just one-fifth of a second over the existing record. A teammate, Tom Carroll, has done the 1,000 in 2:04.2, which is four-tenths better than the meet mark set by Ed Moran of Penn State.

Six men in the 60-yard dash have done 6.2 seconds this winter and another, Mel Barnwell of Pitt, has equalled the IC4A record of :06.1. Dick Englebrink of Penn State, Tom Laris of Dartmouth and Bobby Lowe of Brown are given a good chance to beat Ron Delany's 9:06.6 in the 2-mile run.

The oldest record on the IC4A books, the 56-8 shotput mark set by Al Blozis in 1951, is endangered by Joe Marchiony of Manhattan, who has done 56-7 1/2. John Lawlor of Boston U. has matched the best weight thrown in the event—the 62-9 1/2 set by Al Hall of Cornell. Villanova is favored to beat the mile relay mark of 3:18.6 set by Pitt last year.

With Carroll and Stack both title possibilities, Yale is given a good chance to grab the team championship it last held in 1951.

All games should be included, regular season, tournament and state playoff action, except that no games against B squads or junior varsity squads should be included.

Perelli Grabs Small College Scoring Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A strong closing burst has virtually clinched the small college individual basketball scoring championship for Don Perelli of Southern Connecticut State—who would be the first Easterner in 13 years to take the title.

Perelli, a senior, closed out his season with a 31.5 point average, mainly on the strength of his 204 points in the last six games.

This whirlwind closing took the lead from Warren Spraggins of Virginia Union, who also has finished his campaign. He has a 3.04 average.

Two players still have a chance of overtaking Perelli but they must do it in post-season tournament competition. They are Kelly Coleman of Kentucky Wesleyan, with a 29.3 average, and Jim McDonald of West Virginia Wesleyan 29.4.

Only two other players, who might be listed as contenders, still have games left. Richard Kraft of Brockport State, with a 29.1 mark, has one game remaining. Ron Albenberg of Cornell follows with 23.3, must play in the NCAA College Division Tournament.

The last Easterner to win the small college scoring title was Russell Booth of Bradford Durfee Mass, with 23.6 average in 1947. Jim Weinstein of Franklin & Marshall is the small college free throw leader in latest statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau. He has a .917 percentage on 77 of 84 compared with Ron Slaymaker of Emporia State, who has finished his season with 20 of 39 for .509. Weinstein has one game to play.

Through games of Feb. 27, Mississippi College was the team of offense leader with an imposing 114.2 average—almost ten points better than West Virginia Tech, in second place. Wittenberg Ohio tops defensive units, limiting foes to an average of 46.2 points a game.

Adcock, Pizarro In Braves Fold

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—First baseman Joe Adcock and pitcher Juan Pizarro signed their 1960 contracts with the Milwaukee Braves Friday after a conference with General Manager John McHale.

Adcock, despite some injuries, had his third best season at the plate last year for 10 major league campaigns with a .292 average.

Pizarro compiled a 6.2 record with Milwaukee last season. He struck out 42 in one game and 11 in two others. His biggest handicap is wildness.

Signing of Adcock and Pizarro left five Braves unsigned — Lew Burdette, Johnny Logan, Wes Covington, Don McMahon and Bobby Avila.

Smallboats always have the right of way over power boats.

WEST, ROBERTSON

Two Dominate AP All-America

NEW YORK (AP)—A new college basketball star will emerge next season, in the wake of the graduation of Oscar Robertson and Jerry West. And the selection of the 1960 collegiate basketball All-America by the Associated Press today indicates the successor to the "Big O" and the "Cabin Creek Comet" will be Jerry Lucas of Ohio State.

Robertson, 6-5 of Cincinnati, and West, 6-3 of West Virginia, were far ahead in the voting by 329 sports writers and broadcasters from throughout the country. Their skill and finesse is well known and it was no surprise that they repeated from 1959. In fact, this is the third straight year Robertson made the All-America.

Lucas, a 6-8 sophomore who sparked Ohio State to its first Big Ten title in more than a decade, polled 253 first place votes to 311 for Robertson and 304 for West. This showing points to him as next year's individual standout in much the same manner that big Bill Russell of San Francisco followed Tom Gola of LaSalle. Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas followed Russell, and Robertson and West followed Chamberlain.

Darrell Imhoff, the 6-10 senior who led California to its first National Collegiate (NCAA) title in 1959 and who will help defend the crown in this year's tourney, also was named on the first team along with Tony Jackson, junior star of the defending National Invitation champs, St. John's of New York. Imhoff polled 234 first place votes, but the 6-4 Jackson, barely gained the first team nod with 61 to 58 for Tom Stith, 6-5 junior from St. Bonaventure. It is sible that Jackson and Stith will face each other in the NIT. Robertson, West, Lucas and Imhoff will compete in the NCAA.

Stith topped the second team selection composed also of Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Roger Kaiser of Georgia Tech, Chet Walker of Bradley, and Len Wilkens of Providence.

Dick Hickox of Miami (Fla.), at 5-6 perhaps the tiniest player in major college basketball, was named to a third team with Lee Shaffer of North Carolina, Billy McGill of Utah, Horace Walker of Michigan State and Bill Kennedy of Temple.

The 15 players, composing the first three teams, each will receive certificates from the Associated Press.

An honorable mention list of 25 was named. It includes Jimmy Darrow, Bowling Green; Frank Burgess, Gonzaga; York Larese, North Carolina; Dave DeBusschere, Detroit; Chris Smith, Virginia Tech; Jeff Cohen, William and Mary; Jay Arnette, Texas; Henry Hart, Auburn; Gary Phillips, Houston; Jim Hagan, Tennessee Tech; John Werhas, Southern California, and Don Ogorek, Seattle.

MANTLE DRAWS YANKEE WRATH

We Won't Beg Holdouts--Weiss

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Relief pitcher Ryno Duren signed his 1960 contract Friday after General Manager George Weiss blasted the New York Yankees holdouts as "ungrateful and unreasonable."

With Duren signed, four holdouts remain—centerfielder Mickey Mantle, infielders Tony Kubek and Andy Carey and outfielder Ken Hunt.

"We're not going to get down on our knees and beg Mantle or any other player to take our money," Weiss said. "We're not calling anybody. If they want to talk contract with us, they can come and do it. We're through making overtures."

Duren signed for a reported $16,500, a raise of $1,500. Hunt, also in camp, is expected to follow suit momentarily.

There was no word from Mantle, the $75,000-a-year outfielder who is fighting a $15,000 cut. He dropped from sight at Dallas, Tex., and could not be reached for comment.

Weiss said the Yankees—with-out obligation—had footed Carey's medical bills when the infielder came down with a blood disease last year. He called Andy "ungrateful and unreasonable."

He said Kubek could "shovel snow in Milwaukee the rest of the winter before the club would contact him."

"Apparently, we have a few players who are rich enough to hold out all year," the general manager said. "Well, they'll miss those fat paychecks this summer if they do. The club will not yield to threats."

Infielder Tony Kubek, said at his home in Milwaukee that he had talked with Assistant General Manager Roy Hamer and he expected to talk with Weiss in a day or two. Until Friday, the Yankees said they hadn't heard a word from him.

The fifth of the dissatisfied Yanks, infielder Andy Carey, is in St. Petersburg but he is meticulously avoiding the training quarters. "He wants to avoid a cut in salary," said Weiss. "What can he expect? He batted in only nine runs for us last year."

Most of the general manager's wrath appeared aimed at Mantle and Kubek, who have stubbornly resisted all efforts to get them on the payroll at reduced salary.

Earlier Mantle had said, "The way things are going, I don't even know if I mind being traded or not."

Thursday Kubek was militant. "I intend to sit tight and let the Yankees make the next move," he said in his Milwaukee home. "I definitely won't go to Florida until I agree to terms." The Yankees said he not only had not returned his contract but had not even written a note explaining why.

"This is the year Mantle must learn the facts of life," Weiss said. "He must learn he can't bulldoze us into meeting his terms. He must come in and talk everything over reasonably. We're not going to him."

Bastrop, Mer Rouge Dominate All-Morehouse

MER ROUGE, La. (Special) — Mer Rouge and Bastrop dominated an all-Morehouse parish basketball team selected by coaches in a poll conducted by a Bastrop newspaper.

Alex Rankin and Buddy Blackwell of Mer Rouge were selected on the boys' team along with Ned Head and Charles Burks of Bastrop and Richard Smith of Oak Ridge.

Martha Butler, Susan Montgomery of Mer Rouge, Jean Gregory of Collinston, Carolyn Robinson and Vivian Jones of Bastrop, Jean Gregory of Collinston and Vivian McCready of Bonita were named to the girls' team.

Rankin had previously been chosen on the all-district 7-C and all-regional teams. Miss Montgomery was also chosen on the all-district and all-regional clubs.

Mer Rouge players on the second teams were Harold Edwards, Carolyn Henderson, Peggy Tyson and Fay Nell Woodard.

Deadline Set For Entries In Calhoun Tourney

CALHOUN, La. (Special) — Wednesday noon had been set as the deadline for team entries in the Calhoun Independent Basketball Tournament, officials said yesterday.

The tourney, which will feature boys and girls divisions, is slated to open March 14. The meet will continue every night through Saturday except for Wednesday.

Sixteen boys teams and eight girls' clubs are being sought for the tournament. Entry fee will be $10 with each team limited to ten players. High School players must have written permission from their school principal in order to be eligible to compete.

Teams desiring to enter may telephone Jerry Lovett at 234 during school hours or 2812 after school. Mail entries should be addressed to Box 30, Calhoun.

Red Predicts 100-Game Year With Braves

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Red Schoendienst, completely recovered from the tuberculosis that deactivated him for almost a year, predicted Friday he will play at least 100 games in 1960.

"That is 20 more than the figure set by Manager Charlie Dressen after watching the brilliant Milwaukee Braves second baseman flash some of his old form in spring training."

"Red's been a revelation," said Dressen after Schoendienst had raced full tilt into short left center to make a fancy running catch of a pop fly.

"He hasn't stopped running from the first day he reported. It's hard to believe he's been out it's still early, but right now I for nearly a full season. Of course, would have to say if he keeps on this way, I won't have to worry about second base."

As Dressen pointed out, the 37-year-old Schoendienst certainly seems to be scotching all fears that he might not be able to regain his old form because of the illness, his long layoff and his age. Unlike last September when he reported to the Braves—fat, flabby and futile—Red looks spry, slim and sturdy. Five weeks of diligent exercise in a St. Louis gymnasium has trimmed his figure down from 190 to 130.

"Right now," he said, "I don't feel I've ever been sick. I don't feel I've ever been away and I certainly don't feel my age. Of course, in spring training everybody feels he can field 1,000 and hit 400. I don't know what kind of a season I'll have but physically I never felt better and there's no reason why I can't play at least 100 games. If I don't get hurt."

Schoendienst said he wasn't thinking one bit about his illness.

"That's past and forgotten," he said. "The doctors have assured me there will be no recurrence. They have given me a clean bill of health. They have put no restrictions on me."

Block Tourney For Independent Teams Slated

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — The annual Block high school independent basketball tournament has been set for March 17, 18 and 19, according to Coach O. D. Jackson.

The deadline for filing has been set for 9 a.m., March 14. All area teams should file their entries by that date along with $6 entry fee, Coach Jackson said.

"We have competent officials to officiate at the games," he said, "and we are expecting a strong turnout as we have had in the past." There were 10 teams entered in the tournament last year.

There will be 70 cups and awards given under the Gold Medal plan according to Jackson. There will be first, second and third trophies, all tournament team awards as well as many other awards.

Coach Jackson urges all teams who desire to play in the tournament to file their entry as early as possible.

The Philadelphia Phils will continue on a working agreement basis with the Buffalo and Des Moines teams this year.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Carnival Spirit Reigns At Gala Tallulah Ball

Clowns, kings and mystic maskers all danced merrily together when the carnival spirit of old New Orleans reigned supreme at the Mardi Gras ball at the Tallulah Country Club on Saturday evening. Under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Neill and Mrs. Bob Bailey the club house had been transformed into a replica of the Crescent City at the height of the Mardi Gras season.

A bird bath surrounded by pot plants and many flowers stood in one corner of the porch, where the entrance to "Pirate's Alley" could be seen. A black mammy sold her pralines from a small cart on the porch, which was decorated as a typical patio.

The mantel in the lounge was converted into a balcony with iron railing and tropical greenery where the figure of a masker looked down on the festivities, and on each door and window in the room was black wrought iron, so characteristic of the Vieux Carre.

Gold was the predominating color in the ballroom, which featured cascades of gold balloons suspended from the ceiling lights, gold scrolls, plaques and medallions. Purple and gold streamers with clusters of balloons decorated the huge mantel, while on either end was a large mask depicting merriment and gloom. On the dais, the royal throne, resplendent with draperies of gold and purple adorned with dazzling jewels, awaited the entrance of the court. Henry Sevier Jr. served as master of ceremonies.

Junior maids who entered at the blast by the trumpeter, John Sherwin, wore floor length evening gowns and carried garlands of gold ivy leaves. Making an aisle for the king and queen, they were Susan Sevier, Susan Scott, Rita Clark, Karen Moberley, Linda Sevier, and Billy Ean Eaker.

In his royal robe of purple trimmed with crystal beads and bordered with ermine, Dr. H. S. Province, king, entered the room, followed by trainbearers, Bobby Todd and Mike Lancaster. Walking behind them were the dukes, members of the board of directors of the club, Mark Brown Jr., Harry Holt, Lamar T. Lee Jr., Field Montgomery, Billy Post, and Maxwell Yergler.

The queen's maids followed, dressed in pastel evening gowns and carrying bouquets in carnations, violets, yellow acacia, and fern, tied with gold maline and ribbon streamers. Maids included Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. Joe M. Clark, Mrs. Donald P. Lancaster, Mrs. Elmer Neill Jr., Mrs. Trent Palmer and Mrs. W. M. Malone.

A fanfare of trumpets heralded the approach of the queen, Mrs. Billy Post, in regal robe and carrying an arm bouquet of red roses. She was escorted by Bob Bailey, past president of the club, and her trainbearers were Freddy Gaumnitz and Shelby Morton. After Mrs. Post was greeted by the king and seated on the throne, Tallulah's first debutantes, young college girls, each wearing a white formal and holding a cluster of red carnations, advanced and paid homage to the reigning monarchs. They were Miss Barbara Lee, Miss Mary Jo Province, Miss Kay Rhineberger, Miss Wylma Roper, Miss Freda White and Miss Myrtis Wyly. Escorting them were Ralph Lee, Bob Bailey, E. B. Schicker, W. R. Roper, N. A. White and J. G. Wyly.

Led by the king and queen, the entire court participated in the grand march, after which all entered into the festivities, made more joyous by the masked dancers in colorful costumes. The distribution of serpentine and noisemakers increased the gaiety of the revelers.

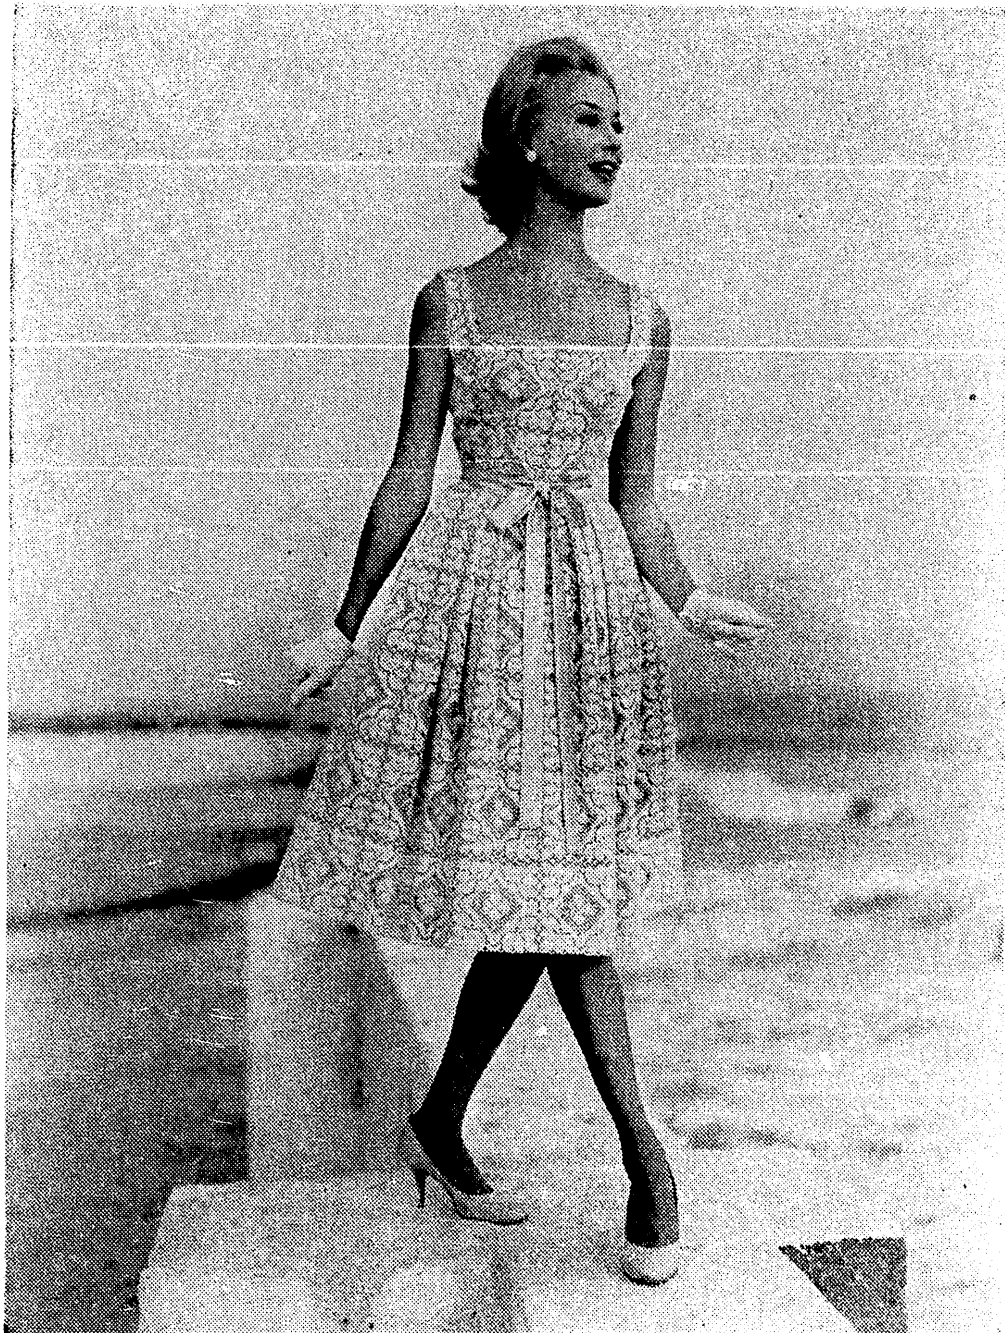

Prizes for the most effective costumes, bottles of champagne in bright wrappings, went to Mrs. Lamar Lee Jr., a cigarette girl; Don Richardson, a tramp clown; and to Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Leoty, representing a couple from ancient Persia. The judges were Admiral and Mrs. John Bottom and Mrs. Alice Easterling of Vicksburg.

Throughout the evening hot ham biscuits, doughnuts and hot coffee were served.

Miss Patricia Bagwell Weds Raymond Cagle

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Bagwell of West Monroe announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Patricia Ann Bagwell, to Raymond Cagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cagle, also of West Monroe, on Friday, February 26.

The couple are making their home at 702 Mill street in West Monroe.

SIMPLE WHITE IRISH COTTON LACE lends an unusual and elegant air to one of the prettiest party dresses of the season. The drama is in the simplicity of the strap shouldered bodice and the softly pleated skirt, accented by a narrow blue sash belt.

Visitor Mrs. Matteson Honored With Luncheons

Twin luncheons at the Lotus Club this week honored Mrs. Dorothy Hudson Matteson of Garden City, New York, who is having a winter visit in Monroe with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hudson. Hostess for both occasions was Mrs. Hudson.

Tulips, stock, iris, and acacia brightened the library, and made festive the long section of the T-shape table. Another bowl of the same flowers was at the head of the table.

Guests who attended the first affair on Tuesday were Mrs. Henry Biedenharn Jr., Mrs. Robert H. Evans, Mrs. M. H. Collet, Mrs. David C. Lea, Mrs. Walter H. Lea of Missoula, Montana, Mrs. Paul Gilmont, Mrs. F. W. Ashcraft, Mrs. Ralph Law, Mrs. E. A. Freeman, Mrs. Ralph Caldwell, Mrs. Bruce Brooks, Mrs. L. J. Madden Jr., Mrs. Jack R. Peat, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. G. Flood Madison, Mrs. E. J. Seymour Sr., Mrs. Armand McLenny Sr., Mrs. W. J. Riley Sr., Mrs. James White of Ft. Whiteman, Missouri, Mrs. Charles Sherrouse, Mrs. John Sherrouse Sr., Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. Romaine Peters of Atlanta, Georgia, Mrs. Benton Wakefield, Mrs. C. U. Johnson, and Mrs. Ben Downing.

Friends invited for a visit with Mrs. Matteson on Thursday included Mrs. Henry Bernstein Sr., Mrs. Ruby Stewart, Mrs. James R. Wooten, Mrs. E. T. Lamkin, H. Lea of Missoula, Montana, Mrs. Paul Gilmont, Mrs. F. W. Ashcraft, Mrs. Ralph Law, Mrs. E. A. Freeman, Mrs. Ralph Caldwell, Mrs. Bruce Brooks, Mrs. L. J. Madden Jr., Mrs. Jack R. Peat, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. G. Flood Madison, Mrs. E. J. Seymour Sr., Mrs. Armand McLenny Sr., Mrs. W. J. Riley Sr., Mrs. James White of Ft. Whiteman, Missouri, Mrs. Charles Sherrouse, Mrs. John Sherrouse Sr., Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. Romaine Peters of Atlanta, Georgia, Mrs. Benton Wakefield, Mrs. C. U. Johnson, and Mrs. Ben Downing.

Wrinkles in many garments, especially those made of wool, may be steamed out by hanging the garments in the bathroom while taking bath or shower.

Coffee, shelled nuts and chocolate keep fresh longer in the refrigerator.

Carrots and beets will wilt to a lesser degree if tops are removed before storing the vegetables.

Remove the cellophane wrapping from a new lamp shade. If left on, it may cause the shade to warp.

MR. AND MRS. RANDOLPH BROWN announce the arrival of their second child and first son, Steven Randolph, born March 3. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Brown and Mrs. Elmer Kennedy.

MRS. D. Y. SMITH left Wednesday for a trip to Baton Rouge, where she will attend the golf tournament and visit with the Gordon Ronaldsons over the weekend.

A GAY WEEKEND IN MOBILE was spent by Miss Mary Jo Bottoms, Miss Patsy Bearden, and Miss Joan Antley, who attended the Mardi Gras in that city last week and visited with Mrs. Margaret Odum.

MRS. D. C. PITMAN of Jackson, Mississippi, has been visiting in Monroe for several weeks with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Evans, and her three sisters and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Tucker, Mrs. F. T. Smith Sr., and Mrs. Annie Fife.

Questions And Answers Guide For Homemakers

By BETTY PEPIS

Q. — I have a large bathroom with vanity sink in natural wood with white and gold Formica top. Woodwork is natural, floor, wall tiles, and fixtures are deep beige. Walls above tile are painted white. What colors should I use for shower curtain, bath mat, window curtain and towels?

A. — You could achieve a coordinated effect with shower and window curtains of light turquoise cotton duck trimmed with moss green cotton fringe (the shower curtain should have a clear plastic lining). Bath mat in turquoise and towels in turquoise, green and white. Tall glass jars of green soap, a vase of dark green leaves complete the scheme.

Q. — I would like wall-to-wall carpeting for my living room and dining room. Walls are light green in both rooms. Sofa and draperies are cocoa with pumpkin flowers and green leaves. One chair is pumpkin with cocoa binding, another is green tweed with pumpkin threads. Wood furniture is limed oak. What color for lamps and carpet?

A. — Carpeting in a soft green somewhat darker than the walls would tie the rooms together nicely. You could use white lamps and accessories with white, yellow and olive green.

Q. — Please help me with a color scheme for our kitchen. We have birch cabinets. Breakfast set is wrought iron. I am very fond of beiges, browns and aqua. Please advise me how to use these colors for Formica countertops, chair coverings, walls, floor and curtains. Would also like advice about a new refrigerator.

A. — I think a beige kitchen would be an excellent idea, unusual and practical. Floor could be vinyl tile in a light beige marbled pattern. Off-white Formica counter tops for your birch cabinets. The refrigerator might be one of the new models in a wood finish to match cabinets. The wrought iron set could be painted a dark chocolate brown with aqua seats. Curtains could be white or beige trimmed in aqua. Walls in cafe-au-lait. You might use more aqua in mixing bowls, canisters, and small kitchen equipment.

Q. — I recently purchased a sofa and chair in a gold and burnt orange tweed. I have wall-to-wall carpeting in toast. Furniture is mahogany. What color for walls, draperies, lamps and accessories?

A. — I think you should keep colors light and clear to avoid a heavy, somber look. You could use pale yellow for walls and curtains. Lamps could be white milk glass with white shades. Bright green and white for pillows, ashtrays and other small accessories.

Ivy Guild Hear Guest Speakers

The Ivy Guild held their regular meeting for February in the home of Mrs. Billy Barbara with Mrs. Henry Taylor co-hostess. Mrs. R. C. Dozier, president, presided and at the conclusion of the business the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Henry Taylor, program chairman.

Mrs. Taylor introduced the speakers: Mrs. Henry Poulan and Mrs. Levens Thompson. Mrs. Poulan's program was "Roses." Mrs. Thompson spoke of "Fungus and Pest Control."

Following the program a dessert course was served to the members: Mrs. J. A. Accardo, Mrs. C. F. Albright, Mrs. C. J. Cornett, Mrs. W. A. Cornett, Mrs. R. C. Dozier, Mrs. T. W. Holden, Mrs. J. J. LaDart, Mrs. J. C. Magee, Mrs. Homer Massingill, Mrs. F. C. Patterson, Mrs. H. T. Poulan, Mrs. C. W. Rader, Mrs. G. L. Thompson, Mrs. Earl Vigg and the hostesses Mrs. Billy Barbara and Mrs. Henry Taylor.

Music Guild Business Meet, Luncheon Held

The Music Guild recently held its annual business meeting and luncheon at the Paragon Supper Club, with Mrs. Marvin Shipp, president, presiding over the meeting. Special guests included Mrs. Leslie D. Fain, state president of the Louisiana Federation of Music Clubs and Mrs. M. B. Pearce, state program chairman, both of Alexandria, Louisiana. Mrs. Fain addressed the group briefly emphasizing the functions and services of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

A program of American contemporary music was presented by Mrs. Jimmy Terry and Mrs. Estelle Schultz Sanders, also guests for the occasion. Mrs. Donald Logan sang the hymn of the month, "America, the Beautiful." The following officers were elected to serve for the 1960-61 term: President, Mrs. Earl Ogg; vice-president, Mrs. Marvin Shipp; treasurer, Mrs. Tom Spurlock; parliamentarian, Mrs. Marvin Shipp; reporter, Mrs. Max Dillingham; historian, Mrs. R. L. Morgan.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Husband Surprises Her With Uninvited Guests

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I told my husband last night the next time he comes through the front door with two or three extra people for dinner (surprise, of course) I am going out the back door. I'd never actually do it, but how can I get him to give me at least an hour's notice?

I'm a fairly good cook, but I'm no magician. Men just don't understand that extra people mean extra preparations. More than once the kids have had to eat peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and the guests got the chops. Please tell me what to do about this before I blow my top.

CAUGHT SHORT

Dear Caught: Tell your husband that either he brings home (with the guests) some extra steaks or he'll have to settle for whatever there is.

Maybe after a few attempts at cutting lamb chops in half and dividing eight species of asparagus six ways, he'll learn that you mean business.

For obvious reasons I'm avoiding the suggestion that you keep

Dear Ann: Please print this letter for teenage girls who are having trouble with their mothers. I'm 14 and have solved one of life's biggest problems.

Mom and I were forever arguing. No matter what she said I had a smart comeback. We never agreed on anything.

Then a girl moved to our block from another city. We got along swell from the start. She invited me to her house for the night and that's when my eyes were opened. This girl and her mother had the loveliest relationship I ever saw. They were polite and considerate to each other — not like relatives, but friends. I couldn't help but tell her I thought it was wonderful that she talked so nicely to her mother. She said "Why shouldn't I? My mother has done more for me than anyone in this world."

I decided then and there I was going to turn over a new leaf. At first Mom was shocked. She thought "I was sick. I said 'please' and 'thank you' and offered to do extra things in the house. Within two days everything changed. Mom gave me more adult privileges because she said I was acting more mature. Teenagers should realize that their parents don't enjoy bickering and arguing any more than the kids. If the teens would make a

Plans Formed For Visiting YWCA Official

Looking forward to the forthcoming visit of Miss Eileen Muir, of Atlanta, Georgia, field staff community division of the National Y organization, on March 14 and 15, the Y. W. C. A. board of directors met Thursday to make plans.

Mrs. J. Norman Coon, president, announced that the board of directors and members will meet at the Y. W. C. A. on Jackson street at 10 a.m. Monday, March 14.

Mrs. Charles Lawrence was elected vice - president of the board to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Hinton. Her duties will begin immediately.

National Y. W. C. A. week will be observed April 23-30, with Mrs. Everett Heller acting as chairman for the local observance.

Members present for the meeting were Mrs. W. L. Corley, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. Frank Eason, Mrs. Everett Heller, Mrs. Jack Herron, Mrs. William Hochstetler, Mrs. Sam Humphries, Mrs. F. L. Jones, Mrs. J. F. Landry, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. N. W. McHenry, and Mrs. B. L. Mulhearn.

decent effort to improve their relationship, the parents would meet them at least half way.

—LEARNED LADY

Dear Learned: Cheers! At last — a voice from the ranks — and coming from you it has real meaning. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann: A certain attractive woman in our community lost her husband several weeks ago. She had lots of callers at first, but now just a few people drop by. The minister called on her three times the first week, which everyone thought was over-doing it. By chance I noticed his car in front of her home again on Monday afternoon of last week.

I'm not saying anything is wrong, but I DO feel it would cut down on the gossip and I suggest you start with yourself.

It's part of a clergyman's job to give spiritual strength to those who have lost loved ones. Why don't you use that wonderful eyesight of yours to crochet a tablecloth?

If a child is unable to have breast milk, then cow's milk is used as a substitute and if this causes any allergy then the next best substitute is one of the soybean products. So you are quite right that milk, vitamins and all

Simple Care Keeps Baby's Mouth Healthy

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

AP Newsfeatures

Don't try to wash the inside of a baby's mouth. Chances are you will put a lot more dirt in than you take out. The normal saliva in the mouth is nature's way of keeping the mouth clean and for the vast majority of babies it is quite adequate.

The inside of a healthy baby's mouth looks pink and it glistens. You can often see the outline of the teeth in the gums. At the time of birth all the teeth of the first set are already formed and are waiting patiently under a thin layer of mucous membrane for the right cue to push through the gums and make their appearance. Sometimes a mother can see these teeth so clearly she is sure her baby is ready to have teeth. But it usually is not so

Club Events Of Interest In Providence

The Providence Home Demonstration Club, working with the Home Demonstration Council of East Carroll Parish, held its organizational meeting in the home of Mrs. Quinton Fortenberry in Lake Providence, at which time the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. L. F. Swoope, Jr.; vice president, Mrs. E. E. Fortenberry; secretary, Mrs. H. H. Calhoun; treasurer, Mrs. M. N. Burroff; reporter, Mrs. C. V. Brelaud; council member, Mrs. W. H. Brasher.

Project leaders are: landscaping and gardening, Mrs. L. E. Walters; food preservation, Mrs. L. E. Fortenberry; nutrition, Mrs. F. E. Fortenberry; home management, Mrs. F. C. Davis; house furnishings, Mrs. H. H. Calhoun; recreation, Mrs. Brasher; clothing, Mrs. J. W. Johnson; consumer education, Mrs. Burroff; family life and health, Mrs. C. E. Pylant; international relations and citizenship, Mrs. W. A. Paris; fellowship, Mrs. Calhoun; 4-H Club, Mrs. Swoope; scholarship, Mrs. Calhoun; membership, Mrs. J. C. Durbin.

Hostesses will be as follows: for March, Mrs. J. W. Johnson; April, Mrs. Burroff; May, Mrs. Walters and Mrs. Brelaud; September, Mrs. Calhoun; October, Mrs. Davis; November, Mrs. Brelaud.

It was decided that dues would be $2 per year for each member. The programs for the club year were explained by Miss Eunyce Howard, agent, who also announced the clothing leader meeting on accessories for basic dresses.

After Mrs. Davis gave the home management letter, the group was informed on the Home Demonstration Council meeting to be held March 25 at Fellowship Hall, with Mrs. Celia Hissong to speak on children and money.

Charter members of the Providence Home Demonstration Club are Mrs. Brasher, Mrs. Brelaud, Mrs. Burroff, Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs.

Even though 'teeth are there they await their appointed time before they push out of their nest. The mucous membrane over the molar teeth in the back of the baby's mouth and over the canine or eye teeth is often thinner and paler than the rest of the mouth. This is quite normal.

Once in a while a baby has one or two little pearly-white cysts on the sharp edges of his gums. They look a little bit like teeth (especially if you're not quite sure what the teeth should look like) but they do not make a click sound on a spoon. These cysts are of no consequence and disappear in time.

One infection of the mouth that is fairly common in young babies is called thrush. It looks like patches of milk stuck to the sides of the baby's mouth. You notice it most on the inside of the cheeks and over the tongue. Sometimes on the roof of the mouth. If what you see in your baby's mouth really is a little scum of milk it should wash away with a drink of water. If it doesn't and you attempt to scrape it off the underlying mucous membrane will bleed slightly and look inflamed.

Davis, Mrs. Durbin, Mrs. F. E. Fortenberry, Mrs. Hankins, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Pylant, Mrs. Swoope, and Mrs. Walters.

MELBOURNE HDC
The home of Mrs. H. L. Lively in Lake Providence was the scene recently when the Melbourne Home Demonstration Club met at a sewing construction workshop, under the direction of agent Miss Eunyce Howard. Sponsored by the East Carroll Home Demonstration Council, the workshop was held in preparation for a dress review in May.

Members making basic dresses were Mrs. Wright Graves, Mrs. E. McCall, Mrs. R. I. Thrasher, and Mrs. H. L. Lively.

Refreshments were served to members and guests present, as follows: Mrs. J. L. Dukes, Mrs. T. B. Dukes, Mrs. Graves, Mrs. Thrasher, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. Robert Cox, Mrs. C. B. Dukes, Mrs. McCall, and Miss Howard.

GOODRICH HDC

Mrs. Clifford Dickey, president, presided when the Goodrich Home Demonstration Club held a meeting recently in the Lake Providence home of Mrs. Atlas Arledge. Nutrition information was given by Mrs. Lamar Roberts, and Mrs. Whit Steakley spoke on safety in the home. Mrs. H. L. Chot informed the group on fats and oils.

A demonstration on wardrobe planning was given by Miss Eunyce Howard, parish home demonstration agent.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Steakley, Mrs. M. O. Acreman, Mrs. Charles Wolf, Mrs. Z. H. Frasier, Mrs. Bill Frasier, Mrs. Chot, Mrs. Frank Yates, Mrs. H. I. Arledge, Mrs. Dickey, and guests Miss Howard and Mrs. Vernon Wolf.

Rival Solons Join In Rap Of Ike Group

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination, joined Friday night in roasting the Eisenhower administration's policies.

The two senators interrupted their battling for Wisconsin's delegate votes to appear on the same platform, the Kansas Democratic State Convention.

Humphrey earlier had declined an invitation to speak here, but he changed his mind Friday. He said in Superior, Wis., he did so for a chance to debate the issues with Kennedy—something Humphrey said he had been unable to get Kennedy to do in their Wisconsin primary battle.

In their addresses, there was little of debate but much agreement that the Republicans have made a mess of things under President Eisenhower.

They promised action would be substituted for drift under a Democratic president in a many-sided contest with the Soviet Union.

Kennedy said the Eisenhower administration has been marked by indecision and doubt. Humphrey termed the Eisenhower years the "big deal for the millionaires."

The Kansas Democratic Convention was called to complete the naming of a 21-vote delegation to the party's national convention in Los Angeles next July.

The delegation will be pledged to a favorite son, Gov. George Docking, who has announced he will seek an unprecedented third term.

Polls have shown Gen. Stuart Symington of Missouri leading in Kansas delegate support after a complimentary vote for Docking.

Kennedy told the convention the seven-year record of "Russian gains and American gaps" under Eisenhower is not a pleasant one.

He said it will take a Democratic administration to put "education ahead of larger tail fins and bigger refrigerators," rebuild the nation's military strength, bolster the farm economy, and revitalize general economic growth.

Humphrey said when the historians get around to writing about the past seven years, they probably will borrow a phrase from the teen-agers and call it the "big deal."

Hitting at Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, Humphrey said: "We've had farm programs that called for crops being plowed under. But this is one that's aimed at plowing farmers under, and particularly farm families."

Admiral Burke Hurls Challenge At Gen. Power

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, Friday challenged Air Force Gen. Thomas B. Power's claim that 300 Soviet missiles could wipe out America's retaliatory force.

In a spirited defense of U.S. military preparedness, Burke said the United States is much stronger than Russia and has an array of weapons that "no one has yet equaled."

The admiral, in a speech at San Jose State College, did not mention Power by name but he took issue with the claim of the strategic air commander that the 100 U.S. bomber bases at home and abroad could be wiped out in a matter of minutes by 300 Soviet missiles.

Burke said "exercises in one-weapon arithmetic" distract attention from this country's overall might. For example, he said, the Navy now has more atomic-capable planes aloft on five aircraft carriers in the Mediterranean and far east than there are in Russian's entire heavy bomber fleet.
